GREAT NAVAL CLASH NEAR IN SOLOMONS

Soviets Driven Back Four Times

Reds Fight Furiously To Hold Their Flanks

Germans Occupy Industrial Settlement Which Has Been Battlefield For Weeks; Invaders Try To Fan Out Along Banks Of Volga's Vital Defenses

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 17—Red army troops, defiant against odds that have forced four retreats through a strategically-important industrial section of north Stalingrad, battled fiercely today to prevent the Germans from fanning out along the banks of the Volga and breaking the flanks of the defense.

(Berlin broadcasts say the Germans already have won the west bank of the Volga on a two-mile front.)

Stalingrad is experiencing her darkest hours of siege.

The Germans have occupied an industrial settlement which had been a battlefield for weeks above the city's heart and have attempted to expand both north and south against the Soviet flanks.

Although the Russians were forced to abandon the settlement under German bombing, tank attacks and the fire of some 30,000 infantrymen, the newspaper Red Star said they checked the enemy outside that district. The invaders regrouped.

Later in this fourth day of the new German offensive the Soviet information bureau announced a withdrawal in one sector not specifically identified, and dispatches said the battle was intensified as further Nazi reserves swung into line to bolster the shock forces already numerically superior.

A fourth withdrawal of Soviet forces at Stalingrad was announced by the noon communique, which also reported that "at heavy cost, the Germans managed to advance slightly" in a plane-supported attack southeast of Novorossisk.

The communique reported that the Russians defending one street had slain 350 Germans and destroyed 23 tanks.

(A Berlin broadcast yesterday declared the Germans now have occupied half of Stalingrad.)

Despite the setbacks, Russian troops "are repulsing furious attacks by numerically superior enemy forces" in the area of the battered city, the communique announced in this 54th day of the siege.

Forty-three German tanks were declared added to the scrap heaps of war yesterday while about a regiment of infantry died in the struggle to decide whether the swastika or the Red flag is to fly above the ruins.

Red army artillery and infantry detachments demolished 28 blockhouses and various war material and annihilated about two companies of Nazi riflemen in local actions northwest of Stalingrad, the communique said.

"On another sector," it reported, "Rumanian units which are attempting to restore lost positions were driven back under the blows of Soviet troops. More than 200 enemy dead were left on the battlefield."

Large-scale artillery and patrol activity was indicated on several sectors of the central (Moscow) front. The communique said scouts and snipers killed about 600 enemy officers and men in that area yesterday.

Guerrillas were reported active behind Axis positions in the north Caucasus.

Enemy Faces 'Annihilation', Berlin Claims

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Oct. 17—The German high command reported today that Nazi forces overran numerous Soviet positions in Stalingrad yesterday in an advance which cut off Red army troops northwest of the city and left the Russians "facing annihilation".

"Infantry and panzer formations, in close cooperation with incessantly attacking air formations and Luftwaffe flak artillery, continued their attacks in spite of embittered enemy opposition," the war bulletin said.

"They over-ran numerous strongpoints and entered the gun factory of the 'Red Barricade'. Through this advance northward, enemy forces northwest of the town were cut off from their communications and are facing annihilation."

The high command asserted the Nazi air force "during the daytime completely eliminated the Soviet air force and downed 18 enemy planes without losses to themselves."

In the Caucasus, the high command said Axis forces registered new gains along the Black sea coast below Novorossisk and on the central sector along the Terek river where Rumanian forces are said to have captured numerous mountain positions and Russian prisoners.

The communique said that German airmen attacking large-scale Russian troop movements in the Kalinin sector northwest of Moscow destroyed numerous railway trains and motor vehicles.

Red army artillery fire declined as the attack in Stalingrad progressed yesterday, the Germans reported.

Slackening of the defense fire was attributed to counter-shelling and aerial bombardment. Dispatches declared that 5,000 tons

34 Injured, 2 Towns Rocked By Explosion Which Rips War Plant

By The Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17—Molten metal which spilled into a pool of water in the open hearth section of a war plant exploded early today, injuring at least 34 workmen, none seriously, and rocking the nearby Ohio river communities of Coraopolis and Sewickley.

Fire Chief Wayne Shanks of Coraopolis said the explosion blew off 200 feet of the roof of the Continental Roll and Steel Foundry Co's. plant and molten metal showered a 500-yard area.

Capt. George Hockensmith, plant protection chief, estimated that the plant will resume operations in about four days.

The plant is two miles north of Coraopolis, which is 15 miles west of Pittsburgh on the Ohio river.

Shanks said part of the roof was blown off and that several fires broke out, all of which were under control within three hours.

James Cochenour, one of the injured workmen, said the blasts occurred when a ladle of molten metal spilled into a puddle of water.

"I was blown out of the seat of a crane by the first explosion," Cochenour related. "Then the second blew me right through a hole in the wall. I'm lucky to be alive."

2 BOYS, 19, ACCUSED OF BURGLARIES HERE

Both Held For Grand Jury; Tires Are Recovered

Charged with breaking and entering in connection with two burglaries here within the last two months, two 19-year-old boys today were bound over to the Columbiana county grand jury by Municipal Judge Frank Gorsshans.

The suspects are Paul Bowers of East Second st. and Robert Clutter of East Third st. While specifically charged with the two burglaries, police claim the suspects have been linked with one other robbery and at least six automobile tire thefts here during the last two months.

They were charged with the robbery of the Charles King filling station at 1224 Harvey ave., on Aug. 31, and the burglary of the Douglas diner on Dresden ave. on Oct. 3. In the filling station robbery, a radio, two boxes of chewing gum and 10 bars of candy were taken. A cash register, cigaret machine and about

AS FLOOD WATERS OF POTOMAC ROSE IN CAPITAL. Death And Damage Toll Mounts In Washington's Greatest Flood

WARNING GIVEN IN SCRAP THEFT

Junk Will Be Cleaned Up As Trucks Are Available

Scrap stored at the Y-Vodrey playlot and at the Columbian park collection centers is being stolen and sold to junk dealers by private individuals, Frank Robinson, chairman of the scrap committee of the East Liverpool civilian defense council, reported to Police Chief Hugh McDermott today.

Police announced that the scrap piles will be watched and persons apprehended stealing will be prosecuted.

Will Warn Dealers

At the same time he said a warning will be issued to junk dealers not to buy junk from boys offering material suspected to have been stolen. All sales, he said, must be reported to police with the name and address of the person from whom it was purchased.

Junk collected in the citywide scrap campaign among school children this week is being stored in the open lots until it can be sold to local dealers. Numerous items have been taken from such stocks during the last couple of nights.

The scrap is the property of the East Liverpool civilian defense council fund, in custody of City Auditor E. Allan McKeever.

Slight Delay Seen

Transfer of scrap collected by the school children from the school buildings will not be finished until Monday or Tuesday but it may be several days before this material can be turned over to the junk dealers, whose yards are jammed to overflowing.

Junk reported to the scrap committee and not yet collected will be reached as soon as trucks and men are available, Mr. Robinson said today.

"We are asking contributors with scrap still in their hands to be patient," Mr. Robinson said. "Scarcity of trucks and men has made it impossible to reach many places this week but every effort will be made to gather it within a few days."

Some of the material, Mr. Robinson said must be cut with an acetylene torch before it can be loaded into trucks.

HOUSE REFUSES DRAFT DELAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 — Backing up the army's high command, the house refused today to consider amendments to the 18- and 19-year-old draft bill which would have barred use of teen-age troops in foreign combat until first trained for a year on American soil.

Five Dead, Thousands More Marooned; Capital Itself Escapes Heavy Blow

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—Death and damage tolls crept upward as the worst flood in Washington's history reached the crest early today and then apparently began to recede slightly.

The capital itself suffered little more than inconvenience because of dikes and other precautions thrown up under President Roosevelt's personal eye.

But the debris-laden Potomac and Rapahannock river have marooned thousands and caused millions of dollars worth of damage in lowland communities of Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland.

Five persons were listed officially as dead due to the floods and scores are missing. Hardest hit is Fredericksburg, Va., whose 10,000 battled waters 45 feet above usual levels.

Every government building in and near Washington was at work this morning. During the night levees were thrown up in some sectors, sandbags stacked and debris removed from bridge supports.

Railroad traffic south from Washington also was restored early this morning, relieving congestion at the huge Union station here, where thousands had spent the night.

The Potomac was reported back in its banks near Cumberland, Md., this morning.

With the Rappahannock river also on the rampage, Fredericksburg, Va., was reported hardest hit. Although the 45-foot-high flood waters that brought its worst disaster in history and left at least 200 families homeless has begun to recede, the city remains in dire straits.

It has no electric power, its drinking water supply is contaminated and there is little hope of

55 FRENCHMEN KILLED IN RIOTS

Workers Continue Protests Against Shift To Reich

By The Associated Press.

Pierre Laval's armed forces killed 40 Frenchmen at Lyon and 15 at Amberieu and wounded 200 at each place yesterday in attacks upon crowds demonstrating violently against shipment of French workers into Germany, the London Times reported today in a dispatch from the French frontier.

Additional disturbances were reported at Marseille, Toulouse, Tarbes and a dozen other places in both occupied and unoccupied France as bloodshed developed over French resistance against being sold in virtual forced labor for Hitler.

At Lyon and Amberieu mobile guards, police and legion storm troopers were reported to have fired rifle and machine gun volleys and hurled hand-grenades into the ranks of the demonstrators.

Gestapo Officials Rushed

The Times dispatch said German Gestapo officials were sent to Lyon. Several cars of a train being assembled for movement of workers to Germany were reported demolished by an explosion.

The outbreaks subsided somewhat today as most French factories are closed on Saturdays because of a raw material shortage, said reports from Bern, Switzerland.

Laval's government has broadcast a warning to the French people against retaining and using arms or munitions dropped by parachute.

Errol Flynn Named In Attack Charge By Stage-Struck Girl

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17—Actor Errol Flynn, who has won many a fair maiden's heart on the silver screen but wasn't able to make a success of his own marriage, today was defendant in a rape charge involving a 17-year-old stage-struck girl, who said he told her he "was very fond of me and would get me a job."

A complaint, issued on instructions from District Attorney John F. Dockweiler, alleged that on the night of Sept. 27 Flynn raped Betty Hansen of Lincoln, Neb., during a party at the fashionable Bel Air home of Fred McEvoy, wealthy British sportsman and former Olympic bobsled champion.

Errol Flynn

"He told me he would call me the next night," Juvenile Officer Dorothy Pulas quoted the girl as saying. "I waited for three nights, but he never called."

Father of a 17-month-old son, Flynn, who was divorced last April by Screen Actress Lily Damita, was released under $1,000 bail pending preliminary hearing Oct. 23.

"I can't understand what all this is about," said the 33-year-old British-born actor in denying the charge. "I hardly spoke to the girl and certainly I did not harm her."

The complaint against Flynn was signed by Mrs. Jack Marsden, a sister, with whom Miss Hansen lives. It also charged three youthful film studio employes with making subsequent morals attacks upon the girl.

Listed as Armand Knapp, 18, Morrie Black, 22, and Joseph Geraldi, 20, they are in custody.

OHIO TO DRAFT TWO TYPES OF MARRIED MEN

Those Wedded Since Dec. 8 And When Induction Was Imminent Face Call

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17 — Col. Chester W. Goble, state selective service director, said today that two types of married men—those wed "when induction was imminent" and those wed since Dec. 8—will be called to help fill Ohio's November draft quota.

Present 3-A men who have wives (but no children) with whom they "maintain a bona fide family relationship in their homes" will not be touched immediately, he added.

Classifications to be drawn upon for the call follow:

1.—1-A men without dependents;

2.—Men who had been given 3-A classification because of collateral dependency (mothers or fathers);

3.—Men who married when selection appeared imminent;

4.—Men married since Dec. 8;

5.—Men formerly ruled 1-B because of minor physical disabilities;

6.—Some former 4-F (bad physical condition) who have been reexamined and reclassified.

"There will be adequate men within these groups to fill the November call," Goble said, "and it is not yet necessary to go into 3-A men."

The director said that under a "balanced call" for the state as a whole, no one board will call any class of registrants substantially in advance of any other board. In other words, Goble added, the quota is being filled under what might be called a "state pool".

The listings of all boards were examined before quotas were issued and no board has been asked to fill a number greater than can be taken from the six specified classifications.

Goble said that with but a few exceptions, initial classification of all registrants in Ohio have been completed.

There was no comment on the December call, but national selective service officials said this week that if legislation to induct 18- and 19-year-old men is passed promptly it would defer calling of bona fide married classes until after the first of the year.

House Set To Pass Draft Bill By Nightfall

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 — In a mixed atmosphere of reluctance and readiness to dip down into the teen-age bracket for fighting men, the house assembled today to act upon drafting youths of 18 and 19 years for military service, with passage of the measure by nightfall apparently assured.

Ten months to the day after the minimum selective service age limit was lowered to 20, the nation's lawmakers moved swiftly toward meeting the demand of military chiefs for emphasis on youth in building an army with a planned strength of 7,500,000 in 1943.

Amid repeated expressions of regret that President Roosevelt and his war aids had found the step necessary, there were confident predictions from house leaders and chairman May (D) of Kentucky of the military committee that the bill will pass overwhelmingly.

McNary Seeks Delay

Meantime, the senate—a step behind the house in the drive to speed the legislation to the chief executive's desk — received from its military committee approval of a bill differing only in minor aspects from that pending in the house.

Plans of senate leaders to bring the measure up for a vote Tuesday met the objection of Minority Leader McNary (R) of Oregon, that many members returned to their states a week ago after being assured by the administration leadership that no major legisla-

BOARD INVITES PUBLIC TO INSPECT NEW GYM

Members of the board of education and other school officials will be on hand for the "open house" today and Sunday at the high school auditorium-gymnasium.

The building will be open for inspection from 2 to 6 p. m. both days. A second "open-house" has been arranged for Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 24 and 25. Residents are invited to inspect the building.

The building inspection is in anticipation of the $49,000 bond issue proposal for completing and equipping the building, which will be submitted at the Nov. 3 general election.

Tough Fight Rages For Base Already, Knox Informs U. S.

Reflects Restrained Optimism In Comment On Whether American Positions Can Be Held; Washington Is Carefully Guarding Movements Of Fleet

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—Army B-26 bombers attacked and probably sank one destroyer, damaged another and set a cargo ship on fire, the navy announced, in attacks on Japanese shipping and naval forces at and near Kiska island in the Aleutians.

By The Associated Press.

Washington naval quarters today forecast a giant battle between the United States and Japanese fleets in the Solomon islands coincident with the bitter struggle for control of Guadalcanal air base and Secretary of the Navy Knox declared:

"There is no concealing there's a good, stiff, tough fight on."

Knox said the outcome has not yet been determined.

Asked if he thinks the American positions can be held against the onslaught of a powerful Japanese naval armada and troop reinforcements, Knox replied:

"I certainly hope so. I expect so. I don't want to make any predictions, but every man out there, afloat and ashore, will give a good account of himself."

In the absence of specific details, Knox's comment reflected a restrained optimism and indicated at least that the battle is far from one-sided despite the fact that the Japanese are bringing their heaviest forces to bear.

While the navy carefully guarded its fleet movements, Washington naval sources saw the likelihood of a sea engagement possibly even greater than the battle at Midway or in the Coral sea.

Large Enemy Fleet Sighted

The navy announced yesterday that a large enemy fleet concentration had been sighted near Shortland island, 260 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, in addition to the strong flotilla already hovering off Guadalcanal itself.

As the battle rages toward a showdown, bitter ground fighting in the tangled Guadalcanal jungles developed between American marines reinforced by regular U. S. army troops, and the encroaching enemy.

Newly-landed Japanese artillery was reported heavily shelling American positions, while offshore U.S.torpedoboats darted in to attack enemy warships. In the opening phases, the navy said, the swift mosquito craft rammed home a probable hit on a Japanese cruiser.

A review of minor actions in the Solomons during the last few days said that American planes found and strafed enemy aircraft Wednesday morning, damaging nine of them on the beach at Rekata bay, on Stanta Isebel island 115 miles north of Guadalcanal.

That afternoon navy and marine corps dive-bombers, escorted by fighters, took off from Guadalcanal for two attacks on enemy transports which were approaching the island. However, they claimed only minor damage to the ships, and lost one of their fighter planes.

There was no further report of enemy air activity over Guadalcanal. Yesterday the navy said enemy bombers had attacked the air field on the island for three successive days beginning Tuesday.

Meanwhile, in other zones of the far-flung Pacific conflict, Japanese invasion forces in the Aleutian islands are reported undergoing terrific bombardment at Kiska, their last foothold in the northern archipelago, and new Allied gains were cited on the New Guinea front.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia said United Nations troops have pushed the Japanese slightly farther back in fighting in the Owen Stanley mountains.

MacArthur also reported that

137 DIE AS SUB SINKS STEAMER

Vessel Torpedoed In Strait Near St. Lawrence Gulf

By The Associated Press.

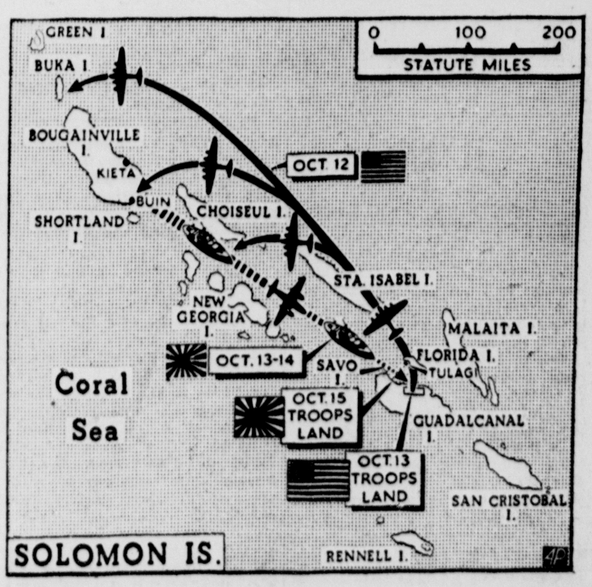
SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 17—An enemy submarine, lurking just outside the Gulf of St. Lawrence Wednesday night, torpedoed and sank the 2,200-ton Newfoundland steamer Caribou, taking the lives of 137 men, women and children making an eight-hour overnight trip from North Sydney, N. S., to Port Aux Basques, Newfoundland.

Among the victims were 13 Americans, including eight U. S. servicemen. Only one of 15 children aboard the vessel — 15-month-old Leonard Shiers of Halifax — survived the sudden attack in Cabot strait which caught many of the passengers asleep in their cabins.

Other victims were 39 Canadian servicemen and 49 civilians, including 16 women, and the entire officer personnel of the ship except Purser Thomas P. Fleming. The bodies of Capt. Ben Taverner of Channel, Newfoundland, and his two sons, Downey and Harold, both ship's officers, were recovered.

The Caribou was only two hours from her destination when the torpedo struck. The explosion tore some of the lifeboats to shreds.

As his craft settled, Capt. Taverner headed her prow for the U-boat, but the Caribou slid under before reaching the submarine.



American and Japanese land, sea and air forces are locked in a gigantic battle for possession of Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, climaxing a four-day give-and-take fight in which both sides landed reinforcements. The navy said the action started Oct. 12 (Oct. 11, U. S. time) with U. S. air attacks on Japanese installations as far away as Buka island and on shipping off New Georgia island (heavy arrow). U. S. reinforcements landed on Guadalcanal Oct. 13 while Japanese air and sea units bombarded American positions on Guadalcanal Oct. 13 and 14 (broken line). Japanese reinforcements landed on the island Oct. 15.

IRWIN KADENS
He's One-man Crime Wave

* * *

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has asked police throughout the nation to search for an army deserter whose crimes, he said, reach into three states, including Ohio.

Hoover said the man is Irwin Kadens, 32, of Chicago, and that charges against him include engaging in a gun battle with a deputy sheriff at Bucyrus, O.

The FBI chief said the fugitive has committed one kidnaping, five rapes, 17 robberies and 16 automobile thefts. He described Kadens as "one of the most dangerous and roughest criminals at large."

U.S. Aviation Heroes Receive 386 Medals At Mass Ceremonies

By The Associated Press.

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, Oct. 17—Three hundred eighty-six medals were pinned on American air heroes at an advanced operational base today in the greatest mass presentation of awards for valor in the United States army's brief but colorful history in the southwest Pacific.

For two hours privates, non-commissioned officers and commissioned officers moved forward under a broiling tropical sun to receive their decorations from Maj. Gen. C. Kenney of Gardiner, Me., commander of all Allied air forces in this area.

Approximately 250 men received the awards, representing citations issued over a period of months, with 75 receiving more than one decoration.

The ceremony was staged on a wide airdrome runway hacked out of the jungle, with rows of huge Flying Fortresses forming a grim background.

The awards represented action over a wide battle area, including Australia, New Guinea, New Britain, the Solomon islands and the Philippines. Some of the heroes were casualties—dead or hospitalized by injuries.

There was no statement as to what the recipients had done to win the awards. United States newspapers already have carried stories from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announcing most of the details.

D. G. Wilkinson wrote recently in connection with the council proposal to reroute busses off of Jennings ave., and in this letter an Allison st. resident takes exceptions to his points. The letter reads:

I HAVE read the letter published in The Review on Wednesday. A resident of Jennings ave. and yet he can't see where it is harming the bus company to run their busses over that street.

Mr. Wilkinson thinks the present bus route is much safer than the proposed route. I wonder if he remembers last winter during the heavy snowfall that the busses were using St. Clair ave. instead of Jennings ave. and were having just as many patrons as ever.

He also thinks that Jennings ave. is practically smooth during snow. I could never see where it was practically smooth at anytime. If the resident of Jennings ave. thinks a few truck loads of cinders will fix the street, I wish he would travel by bus from his residence to St. Clair ave.

I also wonder if he ever tried to drive a bus. If he had he would know the condition of the two bus drivers who are on the sick list because of this run. He would know how hard it is on the busses, also. But I don't suppose he knows there is a war and parts are hard to get, also tires.

Mr. Wilkinson must be a very narrow minded person. I think I could safely estimate that he doesn't ride the bus more than four (4) times a day and the driver goes over it from 18 to 20 times a day. I do not think the residents are very considerate of the drivers.

The resident says they have petitioned members of council "for adequate street lighting, a sanitary sewer as well as police protection and all they hear is that it is being referred to "such and such committee." Does he ever stop to think that there are other districts right here in East Liverpool which do not have all these conveniences.

He also thinks that council should make a tour of the street to ascertain its condition. I personally saw one of the members of council on Oct. 10 looking over the so-called "better bus route."

If the residents want the busses to stay on the present route why doesn't one of the residents apply for a permanent job of driving the Grandview bus. I know that there is no driver working for the Valley Motor Transit Co. who would want the run permanently.

I suggest the residents of Jennings ave. ride the bus from the North Side fire station to the Riverview cemetery, then they would see why council is contemplating a change.

Writer Relates Dispute Over Flying Of Flag

(Proper use of the flag, according to the "Etiquet of Stars and Stripes" at the Carnegie Public library, requires that it should not be flown after dark.)

During the early part of this year, I erected a high flagpole in my yard and put up the flag of the United States. Each morning I raised our emblem and each evening I took it down.

This procedure was carried on until we had friends at our home one evening. They informed me that during wartime, not peace time, the American flag was supposed to be flown at all times. They also said they had heard an announcement broadcasted by the radio to that effect. Several folks also told me it was published in The Review and some magazines.

Considering this information I proceeded from that time on to let the flag fly day and night all summer long. It certainly looked beautiful to me on coming home from work early in the morning to see our colors flying high.

Now, last Tuesday morning we found pinned to our door a message which stated:

"Mr. and Mrs. Smith:

"Your poor flag has been hanging out in all kinds of weather. Would you please take it down. If you don't, it will be taken down. Thank you."

Can you imagine that: invading our property to take down the American flag?

The writing appears to be adult handwriting and not the work of children or pranksters. It was unsigned. I do not believe any organization in town that I know of would be unAmerican enough not to sign such a blackhand note.

The unAmerican person who wrote this message certainly must not be displaying the flag.

Now, what I want to know is, am I right or wrong in displaying the flag at all times, during the war period?

If I am wrong or ignorant of the correct methods of displaying our national emblem I publicly apologize.

But, wasn't our national anthem written under similar conditions?

"At the twilight's last gleaming,
And by the Dawn's early light".
It must have flown all night!

GERMANS' PRISONERS ARE TREATED AS 'ONE'

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 17—The German government has decided to treat its prisoners, British, Russian and presumably French, as a unit and any "mistreatment" of German prisoners on any front "will have to be paid for by the entirety of war prisoners taken by German soldiers without regard to such prisoners' nationality," the Berlin radio announced Friday night.

The controversy over the shackling of prisoners thus was advanced another step by the German high command, which said it feels obligated "not only to protect the honor of German soldiers, but also to secure the humane treatment of German prisoners in the hands of the enemy."

CONGRESSMEN NEAR ACCORD ON TAX PLAN

Some Controversial Points Are Settled On Friday

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—Working with unprecedented speed, senate and house conferees apparently are approaching complete agreement today on the terms of the nation's biggest tax bill.

Working to compromise senate and house differences so the measure can be brought to a final vote next week, the conferees settled several major controversial points yesterday, including:

Acceptance of the 5 percent victory tax on all incomes of individuals more than $624 a year.

Reduction of the present $400 income tax cerdit for dependents to $350, instead of the $300 voted by the senate.

Acceptance of a provision permitting income taxpayers to claim credit for all medical expenses in excess of 5 percent of their net income with $2,500 limit.

Agreement on a combined rate of 40 percent, instead of the present 31, on normal and surtax earnings of corporations.

Retention of the present $5,000 flat exemption from corporation excess profits taxes, instead of the $10,000 voted by the house.

Restoration of the capital stock tax and declared value excess profits levy, which the senate had voted to eliminate.

BURGLARIES

$1 was the loot in the robbery of the diner.

Bowers was taken into custody early this week while Clutter was picked up Thursday afternoon. They waived examination and asked to be bound over to the grand jury at the preliminary hearing before Judge Grosshans today.

Chief Police Hugh McDermott said that the pair admitted having stolen tires from at least six automobiles, parked near the City hospital, Dresden ave., Fifth st. and in Wellsville. The tires they said, were sold at from $15 to $20 each.

As a result of this confession police have recovered about a dozen of the stolen tires from the purchasers. One purchaser, police said, paid $40 for three tires, another $25 for two, another $20 for two, another $20 for two and one at $15 for one. The purchasers were forced to turn the tires back to the police who will return them to the owners.

Chief McDermott declared today that in the future purchasers as well as the sellers of stolen tires will be prosecuted.

"We will file charges of receiving stolen property against persons purchasing tires except through authorized dealers," Chief McDermott declared. "We urge that automobile owners, if approached by strangers offering to sell tires, detain the suspect and call the police."

Virtually all of the tires recovered by police have been claimed by the owners after proper identification. None of the tires was among those stolen at the Hall China Co. parking lot in East End, scene of numerous thefts.

Chief McDermott announced that he is seeking a third suspect, who is believed to have been connected with several other tire robberies here.

Nazis Blast Landing Boats

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Oct. 17—German airmen attacked concentrations of landing boats on the British south coast yesterday, sinking six of the craft and damaging many others, the German high command reported today.

British Coast Bombed

LONDON, Oct. 17—German warplanes scattered bombs along the northeast coast of Britain during the night.

From Washington—

Swiss To Care For Children

Switzerland, which is the home of the International Red Cross, will be a haven for three-month vacations for thousands of needy children from countries at war.

It is expected that about 10,000 children every three months will enter the country, mostly from adjoining France. Marc Peter, former Swiss minister and now International Red Cross delegate to the United States, said Friday in disclosing the plan, approved by the Swiss federal government.

The project is to build up the children physically.

Sole Leather Frozen

The War Production Board reports excess stocks of sole leather frozen in the hands of manufacturers, tanners and other sole cutters will not be released for civilian use, but held in reserve as a contingency against a shortage of hides and leathers in the future.

A WPB order requires all sole cutters to set aside all cut inner-sole and outer-sole leather of military weight and quality for military and lease-lend use. Stocks not of military weight and quality are available for civilian use.

Around The Nation—

Labor, Management Unity Lauded

CHICAGO—American labor and management have cooperated better than 99 percent in settling their disputes through collective bargaining and conciliation, John R. Steelman, director of the United States conciliation service, reports.

"This is not a perfect record," he said, "but it is the best work record we ever have attained."

'Prepare For Worst'

CHICAGO—Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, asserted Friday that when it comes to taking in slack in the operation of carriers "we are pretty close to the end of the rope."

"There is little leeway left and very little reserve strength to draw upon," Eastman said in an address to the sixth annual meeting of the National Association of Shippers Advisory boards. "Certainly we are in for a long and bitter struggle and there is no sounder policy than to be ready for the worst."

Eastman said no one knows for sure what the future holds, but it is certain the railroads are driving their equipment as never before.

Newspaper Executive Dies

KANSAS CITY—George B. Longan, 62, president of the Kansas City Star Co. and a director of The Associated Press, died of a heart ailment Friday at Menorah hospital.

Ocean-Born Babies Reach U. S.

AN ATLANTIC PORT—A number of babies born to British evacuees during a voyage across a war-torn ocean have reached here safely. Mothers and babies are reported doing well by medical attendants who accompanied the group.

Also aboard the ship were American entertainers and survivors of torpedoed vessels.

Nobel Prizes Dropped Again

NEW YORK — The Swedish-American News Exchange said it had been informed from Stockholm that no Nobel prizes will be awarded this year, prolonging a wartime suspension of the honors which have not been conferred since 1939.

Railroads Near 'Bottom Of Barrel'

CHICAGO—John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said Friday that the nation's railroads, in their efforts to increase utilization of their present equipment, particularly their motive power, are close to "the bottom of the barrel."

"There is no further margin left in the reserves represented by unserviceable and surplus equipment," Pelley said. He added that each locomotive in active service is handling 25 percent more gross ton-miles this month than in October, 1939.

Browder Retracts Statement

NEW YORK—Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, has retracted without reservation a signed article in the Oct. 4 issue of The Daily Worker charging that "reactionary officials in the state department" are hindering the war effort in China.

Warns Of Food Shortage

NEW YORK—Unless immediate steps are taken to coordinate this country's system for food production and distribution, a "major food shortage is a certainty," Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, said Friday.

Around Ohio—

Club Builds Big Scrap Pile

CLEVELAND—The Union club, aristocratic downtown refuge for Cleveland capitalists, has announced that half of its massive iron fence will be thrown onto the two-ton pile of scrap rounded up inside the building.

The other half is needed to protect pedestrians against falling into a recess across the front of the property at Euclid ave. and East 12th st., the club explained.

Four Ohioans Honored

COLUMBUS—Four Ohio soldiers with the army air forces won recognition Friday on the world's far-flung battlefronts.

At Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Australia, two Ohioans were among 11 officers and men awarded Silver Stars by Maj. Gen. George C. Kenny, commander of Allied air forces in the South Pacific.

They are Technical Sgts. Martin M. Schadl of Akron and Sam E. Weaver of Berea. Both are flying Fortress gunners.

It also was announced that Lieut. Clifton H. Troxell, recipient of a Silver Star, is from Ravenna, O., and not Eclectric, Ala.

On the English aerial front, Sgt. Forest W. Bertsch of Sidney, a Fortress gunner, is one of 10 men who survived a plunge into the English channel after their big plane was shot down in a fight with Germany's famed yellow-nosed squadron.

Gets SEC Regional Post

CLEVELAND — Appointment of C. J. Odenweller Jr. as administrator of the securities and exchange commission's four-state regional office here was announced Friday by William Green, acting administrator since last March.

From Abroad—

Finnish Peace Step Rumored

LONDON—A Zurich dispatch to Reuters, British news agency, told of reports reaching Switzerland that a letter discussing the possibilities of a separate peace for Finland had been sent recently by Field Marshal Baron Mannheim, Finnish commander in chief, to Pope Pius XII.

There is no confirmation of these reports.

Allies Ready, Briton Declares

LONDON—Labor Minister Ernest Bevin declared Friday that the Allied nations are all set for "the crucial moment of the war, which he said now is opening.

The Allies "have their program and their strategy," he said, adding that Britain knows what contribution she can make—and where and when.

Bevin said "nothing is farther from the truth" than suggestions that the United Nations are not keeping their agreements with one another.

Alaska, Springboard Of Attack

LONDON—Alaska is "the springboard of attack on Japan" and the new Alaska highway "will play a very powerful part in the smashing of at least one of our enemies," Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner for Canada, declared Friday.

GUADALCANAL, Solomon Islands Oct. 4—(Delayed)—When the air raid siren sounded Lieut. Dan Gaede of Columbus, O., dived into a fox hole.

The army officer landed smack on top of a navy officer who already had taken shelter there.

"Sorry," grinned the army man, "My name is Dan Gaede."

The navy officer grinned and stuck out his hand.

'So is mine," he said. "I am Lieut. Comdr. Dan E. Gaede of Coronado, Calif.

They were cousins but never had met before.

JEFFERS WOULD KEEP RUBBER MEN AT JOBS

By The Associated Press.

AKRON, Oct. 17—The rubber industry's key men must remain at their jobs, says William Jeffers, national rubber administrator.

"I have talked to (manpower commissioner Paul) McNutt about taking important men from this vital industry," Jeffers asserted yesterday at the conclusion of a two-day visit in rubber plants here.

"I am going to talk to him again when I get back to Washington. Our economy has been built around rubber and we cannot go back to the horse and buggy days."

Some rubber officials have entered armed service or taken government jobs.

Weather bureau and army engineers warned the crest—estimated at about 18 feet—should come after dawn along the waterfront here, and that every hour it is delayed will mean higher water. This at least would be 11 feet above flood stage and six inches over the record peak during the serious flood of 1936.

The known dead include John E. Buell, 31, of Bethesda, Md., swept to death while attempting to pull a stalled auto out of a flooded zone; Joseph Lamp, power company lineman, electrocuted while doing flood repair work near Winchester, Va.; Joseph S. Beatin, 63, and his wife, Elizabeth, 65, both of Baltimore, victims of a traffic accident attributed to the storm and Albert Miller of Washington. Red Cross headquarters here are probing reports of additional victims throughout the area.

NINE MEN LOSE LIVES AS BOMBER HITS PEAK

By The Associated Press.

MAGDALENA, N. M., Oct. 17—Nine men lost their lives in the crash of a four-motored army bomber which struck the top of a mountain near here and exploded.

Delayed reports on the Thursday night crash came from a forest ranger in this little isolated southwestern New Mexico cow town.

TIRE INSPECTION PLAN SET BY OPA

Motorists Can Lose Ration Books For Illegal Acts

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 — Motorists with tires not "legally acquired" will lose their gasoline ration books, the Office of Price Administration has disclosed in announcing details of a nationwide program for periodic inspection of tires.

The five tires listed by the motorist by serial number in connection with rationing, plus tires acquired through rationing certificates, will be the only "legal" tires.

First inspection for all passenger car tires must be made between Dec. 1 and Jan. 31, 1943, with commercial vehicle inspection starting Nov. 15.

After the initial inspection, passenger car owners with the basic "A" ration book will be required to have their tires inspected every four months at official OPA inspection stations.

Two-Month Inspection Ordered

Passenger car owners with books above the basic "A" must have their tires inspected every two months. Commercial vehicle tires must be inspected every two months or every 5,000 miles, whichever comes first.

OPA said official inspectors will be allowed to charge a maximum fee of 25 cents per vehicle in inspections where no tires are removed from wheel or rim.

OPA said neither private passenger automobiles nor commercial vehicles will be certified for continued operation when tires needed repairs or when mechanical faults caused unnecessary tire wear.

The inspector will note the serial number of tires and compare them with the numbers entered in the owner's records.

"Discrepancies will be reported to the local board," OPA said, "and if the board's records do not show the owner has been issued a rationing certificate for tires since the original registration numbers were set down an explanation will be called for. Unless the owner can show the tires were acquired legally since he registered, his gasoline ration book will be revoked."

May Recommend Replacement

Tires worn to the recapping point must be removed for a complete inspection. If a tire is found to be suitable for recappng, the inspector will fill out a form enabling the owner to apply immediately to his rationing board. The inspector must indicate in his report when tires are worn beyond recapping.

When a tire has become unfit for recapping "through no fault of the owner," the inspector may recommend a replacement.

Motorists who get replacements must turn in the old tires to the dealer from whom they were purchased. Turn-ins found to be sound will be traced back to the inspector and after two warnings for "careless or dishonest inspection," the authority of the inspector will be withdrawn.

COUNTY SALES TAXES CONTINUE TO DECLINE

Don H. Ebright, state treasurer at Columbus, said today Columbiana county's sales tax receipts continue to decline. Collections for year so far are $96,895.51, under the same period in 1942.

The same trend is shown throughout the state, Mr. Ebright said. The total statewide reduction for the year's collection to Oct. 3 is $5,682,521.10.

So far this year, receipts total $39,823,864.17, compared with $45,506,385.27 in the same period last year.

Columbiana county figures are: week ending Oct. 3, 1942—$12,936.65; the same period last year—$17,090.72; total so far in 1942—$414,563.02; the same period last year—$511,458.53.

RHODE ISLAND HOLDS LEAD IN SCRAP DRIVE

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Mountains of scrap rose higher all over the nation today as the newspaper-sponsored national campaign drew near its close.

Seven states reported to the newspapers' united scrap metal drive committee averages of better than 60 pounds per person on the basis of partial returns.

The latest tally was 1,826,954 tons from 37 states—an average of 37.5 pounds per capita. Rhode Island held the lead with 72.9 pounds per person.

Kansas with 72.2 pounds per capita was second and Nevada third with 70.3 pounds. The tonnage totals were Rhode Island 26,000, Kansas 65,000 and Nevada 3,870.

The War Today:

Jap Officials Work Overtime To Keep Up Civilians' Morale

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by De Witt MacKenzie, Wide World war analyst, is written today by Glenn Babb. MacKenzie, now in Britain on a tour of the war zones, is expected to resume with Monday's column.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Gen. Tojo's government is concerned about Japan's home front. Its agencies responsible for civilian morale have been working overtime this week. Tokyo is in the throes of a week-long festival devoted to the deification of those who died on the battlefields of the Philippines, Malaya and the Indies.

Radio Tokyo is broadcasting thousands of words extolling the achievements of the Tojo regime, the excuse being the anniversary tomorrow of its inauguration last year on the eve of, and as a preliminary to, Pearl Harbor.

Have Gone Long Way

There is no denying that Tojo and his sword-rattling clan have gone a long way in one year. And there is no false modesty in radio Tokyo's telling of it:

"No government in history ever has seen such rapid expansion of its complete or partial jurisdiction within one year. No less than 120,000,000 people of different languages, races, culture and environment have been brought together in one gigantic community by Japan for the building of greater East Asia."

But the interesting point is that so much of it should be thought necessary at this time in conjunction with religio-patriotic ceremonies appealing to the strongest emotions of the race. Obviously Japan is at a crisis of her Pacific war and her leaders feel the need of strengthening popular enthusiasm for the war effort.

It may be, of course, that some new adventure is in the making, such as the long-awaited smash at Siberia or a thrust deeper into the southwest Pacific.

Defensive Phase Stressed

But circumstances suggest that the psychological preparation is for a different phase of the war, one essentially defensive and therefore more difficult for the home front to endure. Already the Japanese people have been warned that the war will last for years—perhaps a hundred years, Tojo has said.

The great battle now joined in the Solomons does not alter this picture. No matter how it goes it cannot change the essential fact that Japan is fighting now primarily to hold spoils already won.

The festival of hero-deification now in progress in Tokyo illustrates vividly the spiritual and psychological forces Japan's soldier leaders can invoke. Tokyo broadcasts describe great throngs worshipping at the empire's primary military temple, the Yasukuni shrine on Kudan hill, just across the moat from the palace of the Son of Heaven. There is no reason to doubt these accounts of popular response and emotion.

MAN DRIVES 1913 CAR ON 18-YEAR-OLD TIRES

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. — Marriages and automobile tires, opines T. G. Bond, both must be managed carefully to make them last.

The 87 - year - old storekeeper speaks with authority. His marriage has lasted nearly 68 years and his 1913T-Model is still serviceable with its 18-year-old tires.

"I've been over some rocky roads, but I never drove over 18 miles an hour," he said. He had his own method of preserving tires. When he had to buy a relining he washed the tire inside and out. Then he painted the inside and that of the lining with glue to form a stronger wall of protection for the tube. The car is in the garage now for the duration. No sense in wasting four good tires, he says.

Success of his marriage? That's simple: "Keep out of bad habits and stay home with your wife."

East Ender Erects Honor Roll To Servicemen

AN honor roll, containing the names of servicemen from East End, is being erected by George Hargraves, a veteran of the First World war.

The former soldier has undertaken the project as a personal effort and recently completed a small board. He discovered this was too small for the growing list of service men and a larger roll is nearing completion.

However, he is encountering difficulties in securing an accurate list of East End servicemen, and today he said he will appreciate the cooperation of the families of men in the armed forces in giving him their names and ranks.

When finished, the honor roll will be erected in a vacant lot on Pennsylvania ave., adjoining the Federal Building and Loan Co.

Nelson Asks Further Aid Of Press In Metal Roundup

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 — Donald M. Nelson told the nation's newspapers Friday they have done a magnificent and unprecedented job in carrying on the naionwide household scrap salvage campaign during the last several weeks.

Addressing a group of publishers and executives who have served as members of the newspapers' united scrap drive committee, the War Production Board chairman said:

"The job the newspapers have done is absolutely unprecedented in this country. It has been magnificent. The results surpassed the fondest hopes I entertained when I asked the publishers to come in a few weeks ago and discuss the problem of our materials shortage and how the newspapers could help."

Industrial Drive Urged

With that statement Nelson urged the newspapers to turn increasing attention to the problems of industrial scrap salvage.

Richard W. Slocum, general manager of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and committee chairman, and other publishers and executives, told Nelson they feel certain that newspapers through out the country will accept the new challenge and gladly work to stimulate the flow of industrial scrap into war channels.

The committee, Slocum told Nelson, will discuss the problem at once, together with newspapers in all parts of the country, work out plans as rapidly as possible.

In addition to giving increased attention to industrial salvage, in which the tonnages involved are great, Slocum said newspapers will continue their interest in household salvage and all other phases of the scrap effort.

Roy D. Moore, publisher of the Canton Repository, was among those who met with Nelson.

Pennsylvania Leads States In U. S. Campaign

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 — Late figures on industrial scrap metal receipts jumped Pennsylvania into first place last night in the newspapers' united salvage campaign with a state average of 83.1 pounds per person.

Montana forged ahead to take second honors with 78.2 pounds per capita and Rhode Island was third with 72.9 pounds.

Ohio, with 58 pounds per capita has so far brought in a total of 200,000 tons.

State estimates ran the total for the 37 states reporting to 2,071,223 tons — 42.6 pounds per capita for this population group.

Two small communities passed cities and towns many times their population to take the lead late today—judged on per capita collections.

Wolcott, Vt., 831 population, has collected 435 pounds of scrap for every citizen. Brigantine, N. J., with 303 citizens, reported a per capita figure of 416 pounds.

Lochner Says:

Only A Mighty Military Smash Will Put Nazis Out Of Fight

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17—Adolf Hitler has plenty of headaches and bottlenecks, but only a mighty military smash by the United Nations is likely to put Germany out of the war, in the opinion of Louis P. Lochner, who was chief of the German bureau of The Associated Press until the declaration of war.

Addressing the American Society for Metals here Thursday night, Lochner observed:

"After traveling around this country, and going through the great Boeing factory at Seattle, and seeing our airmen at work, I believe we are getting in stride for that blow. There is a tremendous effort in this country, and I only wish it went as far as some of the politicians in Washington."

Lochner listed one of Hitler's headaches as "what seems like the loss of his psychic sense.

War Declaration Called 'Stupid'

"This was shown on the declaration of war upon the United States—no one thought he would be so psychologically stupid as to do that," the journalist continued. "I never saw a more despondent population than there was in Berlin after that declaration of war."

Another Hitler headache is caused by the fuehrer's associates, Lochner said:

"He is at no time quite sure of his men. No general may come into his presence without first parking his gun outside.

"There is no public control of funds in Germany and the leaders are living off the fat of the land."

Germany's allies must be another cause for worry, Lochner said, citing distrust of Japan and Italy.

The greatest bottleneck in Germany is transportation, he added:

"In his ego Hitler thought that people in future years would talk of his super-highways as people speak of the pyramids. The result is that he neglected the most essential thing—the railroads. There is a frightful lack of locomotives and the equipment is badly out of date. I think one of the shortcuts to victory over Germany is the bombing of roundhouses and railroad lines.

'Nuisance Raids Can Help'

"Nuisance raids can be important, too.

"I don't think Germans will take those bombings the way the British have. The lack of food affects the very nerves of the people.

"The matter of food is a very trying problem in Germany. A T-bone steak is about two weeks' meat ration. There is a great shortage of drugs—anesthetics, for example."

Another bottleneck, Lochner said, is the lack of civilian manpower.

But Lochner declared Hitler has had six years to plan the war, and "rifts do not mean a crackup. I fear that will not come until we have administered a crushing military blow to the Axis."

The Sunlit Road

By TOM T. JONES

COMMENCEMENT exercises of the Ohio Valley Business college 44 years ago was one of the social events of the town and a large crowd gathered in the Grand opera house on East Sixth st. to see the graduates receive their diplomas.

The program was held July 10, 1898, and one of the highlights was a mock trial built about a breach of promise suit. A group of 27 witnesses was called and questioned by the "attorneys", O. S. Reed and Dr. John Lloyd Lee.

A double quartet sang "Back 'Mid the Clover and the Corn" and "March of The Nations."

Five orations and one essay were given by the graduates: "The Future of Writing", Mary Fitzgerald; "Commercial Training vs. Literary Training", Fred G. Porter; "Progress of the Nation", P. V. Mackall; "Looking For a Chance", George F. White; "The American Girl of Today", Ethel McCain; "Value of Commercial Education", D. K. Tarr, and "Realms of Fads", Ella D. Hamilton.

The program also included a recitation "Benefits of Shorthand" by Jessie E. Nellis. The diplomas were presented by J. F. Cooper, president of the college, following an address by Dr. Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The graduation activities were climaxed the next day when students of the institution held a picnic at Rock Springs park. In those days admission was free and Nowling's orchestra played for dancing during the afternoon and night. A program of sports included a game of baseball played by members of the school and a team from the East Liverpool Phoenix club.

Members Of County Bar Dedicate Flag To Attorneys In Service

Special To The Review.

LISBON, Oct. 17 — Members of the Columbiana County Bar association met in a special session in courtroom No. 1 Friday morning and with appropriate ceremonies dedicated a service flag containing 10 blue stars in honor of members of the Bar who have been called to the service. The flag was placed at the front of the courtroom.

The ceremonies were opened by President L. B. Harris, who then turned the meeting over to a special committee composed of Attorneys John E. Bauknecht, Raymond Buzzard and Alfred Fitch. The invocation was given by Judge H. W. Hammond, and the dedication of the service flag was made by Attorney Buzzard, who read the names on the honor roll and gave appropriate remarks concerning each and their activity in connection with the County Bar.

The address was given by Judge Joel H. Sharp, who paid tribute to the character and integrity of the men in the service.

Those represented on the service flag by a blue star are:

Second Lieut. Paul Strader, Camp Cook, Calif.

Second Lieut. Harold Aronson, Camp Jet, Okla.

Second Lieut. Guy Mauro, Fort Knox, Ky.

William B. Moore, seaman, second class, Treasure Island, Calif.

HOME NURSING GROUP ASKS MORE RECRUITS

Pearl Welsh Is Named Head Of Volunteer Teachers

Miss Pearl Welsh was named chairman of volunteer Red Cross home nursing instructors today, as district women were again urged to enroll for home nursing training.

Miss Welsh and Mrs. C. H. Bailey, chairman, as well as other project leaders, urged housewives and home-makers to comply with the request of many war agencies that one person in each home be equipped to care for the family in case of illness or accident.

"It is absolutely necessary that district women know how to care for their families during minor illnesses so that doctors and nurses need not be called from vital war work," spokesmen said.

More than 50 persons have enrolled for the training course so far. Classes will be arranged for every evening and some afternoons for the conveniences of the trainees, those taking the instructions, the committee announced. Classes are scheduled to start Oct. 26.

The home nursing training project committee is comprised of Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. C. V. Beatty, Mrs. Dale Thompson and Mrs. William Ogilvie.

Persons wishing to enroll may call the Red Cross office in the City hall (phone 4016).

Mr. Willkie Reporting

WENDELL WILLKIE'S promised report on his recent tour has had the priceless buildup of White House sponsorship. Most of his countrymen will be waiting for the information he was able to collect on his government-sponsored trip around the world.

Meanwhile, they will continue to draw on their imagination concerning Mr. Willkie's status. Their conclusions are as apart as it is possible for conclusions to be; Mr. Willkie is a statesman, or Mr. Willkie is a fraud.

Time will tell that story to everybody's satisfaction. One thing about Mr. Willkie at the moment is clear, however. As much as any public figures, he has demonstrated ability to bore through superficialities and get at the truth. His hoarse warning in 1940 that Americans should give all their attention to production in order to be strong and free showed deep insight into the production problem crystallized by the beginning of war. He has done more to clarify the fundamental issue between free men and authoritarians than any other individual, both as writer and speaker; even critics have borrowed his ideas and phrases to aid their own expositions of the war.

Mr. Willkie will do a workmanlike job of reporting on what he saw while visiting other nations in the anti-Axis bloc. His admirers believes he will let the chips fall where they will. Admirers who also are admirers of President Roosevelt—and many Americans have found themselves sharing their admiration in this way—believe it was planned that way. They believe the President is just as anxious for his countrymen to have the benefit of Mr. Willkie's reporting as Mr. Willkie is.

Certainly the press, which is anxious to be able to give its readers the benefit of all the information about the war that can be obtained, welcomes the privileges of adding so distinguished a correspondent.

Guadalcanal

TWELVE months ago Guadalcanal was a rarely noticed name in the South Seas, of importance only to a handful of scheming Japanese plotting a campaign to dominate everything between their islands and Australia.

Today it is the scene of a climactic battle between the United States and Japan to determine a point of advantage in a world war. Every household knows Guadalcanal as intimately as the other strange names that have preceded it since last December—Wake, Guam, Bataan, Corregidor and Port Moresby.

It is one of the key points in the extended strategy of a war being fought throughout the world to determine how human beings shall live in every habitable place on earth. There are many others, once strange, now growing familiar, just as 25 years ago the names of villages and wooded places in France became milestones in history.

Guadalcanal will be widely known to future generations. A decisive battle was fought there. A decisive battle was fought off Midway. Turning points were reached at Dunkerque and a place called Dakar. Bangasi and Madagascar will not be forgotten, nor will Rangoon, Hainan island, Dutch Harbor and Crete—all names of places prominent in the war that shrank the world.

Americanized Italians

ANNOUNCEMENT that Italians in this country who have not become citizens no longer will be classed as enemy aliens after Oct. 19 is a rebuke to extremists in nationalism.

The United States is comprised of all races and nationalities. "America for Americans" is a slogan so widely inclusive that everybody who believes in the American ideal of "live and let live" can use it in his own behalf.

An American is not merely someone who happened to be born with a certain name, skin of a particular color, or ancestors of a special stock. He is someone who is bound to America by belief in a way of living that has made it possible for Italians, Germans, Spaniards, Englishmen, Irishmen, Negroes, Mongolians and Caucasians all to live together under one flag.

Certainly of all Americans no one has more cause to be thankful for the common ideal of their adopted country than Italians who have watched the systematic debasement of their native land by rabid nationalists who sold out Italy's interests to Germany.

That's Settled

ANYONE taking the Washington walls over the tax bill literally would be convinced that it is going to ring down the curtain on the American way of life. This is an old national custom.

The tax bill is bad. There never has been a good tax bill. It is unfair. All tax bills are unfair. It is disappointing, shortsighted, iniquitous, vicious, blundering and idiotic—all standard adjectives for tax bills.

But it will raise a pile of money to help finance the war and to help keep millions of persons from trying to spend wastefully money that should be applied to the biggest job the United States ever tackled. That was the motive for drawing a new schedule of taxes. An essential job has been performed. What will be referred to as the "worst tax bill in history" finally has been sent to conference committee for final adjustments—latest in a long line of tax bills, most of them referred to in their time as the "worst" in history.

True And False

America Still Has Friends In Japan, But Right Now It Happens That Military Clique's In Power

(The following is taken from an article by Harry Paxton Howard in Commonwealth.)

THE late President Theodore Roosevelt and the press of his day used to shout from the housetops that Japan was the one great, "liberal", "progressive", "modern" country of Asia.

Our financiers supplied funds for Japan's war against Russia and invasion of Korea and Manchuria, and President Roosevelt himself acted as secret attorney for Japan to induce Russia to send peace delegates to Portsmouth—where shrewd Japanese diplomacy aided by Roosevelt gained a most amazing diplomatic victory.

Those days are over, and the present Roosevelt administration and the press under its influence shout from the housetops that the "Japs" are "naturally" fuedal and militaristic "savage yellow bellies," utterly incapable of liberal and progressive ideas.

Both pictures contain truth. Both pictures contain falsehood. There are liberal and progressive Japanese, and there are militaristic and feudal-minded Japanese.

There are Japanese who love peace and there are Japanese who start wars. In a word, the Japanese are remarkably like most other peoples.

The present military dictatorship in Japan is essentially similar to the dictatorships of other "brutalitarian" powers, in that it rebelled against and overthrow a weak parliamentary regime.

From July, 1929, the Japanese government was in the hands of the Hamaguchi cabinet—a representative civilian government based upon the Minseito, strongest party in parliament. Not only was Premier Hamaguchi a civilian, but the leader of the opposition was also a civilian.

For Japan, so long under the domination of feudal militarists and their imperial figure-head, it was a truly remarkable situation.

The Japanese people at last were attaining to political power. This power was by no means complete, and was precarious and insecure, but there was definitely a government in office able to speak for the Japanese people far more responsibly than any Japanese government before or since.

WITH the power and prestige of the Japanese militarists and professional patriots steadily declining and evidently doomed, they turned to the actual creation of "incidents" in Manchuria and Korea.

One thing would have saved parliamentary government and completely discredited the militarists. The powers could have spoken firmly and decisively, telling the militarists to withdraw. The powers did not do so.

Since 1932 every Japanese government has been headed either by a militarist or by a bureaucrat or aristocrat approved by the militarists.

In 1936, indeed, the militarists tried to exterminate all the remaining influential civilians in the bureaucracy itself, and by their bloody "purge" became the absolute masters of Japan—an absolutism only slightly less complete than the Japanese army's military dictatorship in Manchuria.

Though thousands of Japanese are now in prison on political and "anti-war" charges, and hundreds have been quietly done away with, there is no doubt that most ordinary Japanese are obeying their government in this war.

In this they are acting no differently from patriotic subjects of other governments. They believe their "country is in danger," they get little except government-colored "news", they feel that everyone must do his duty in this hour of "national crisis", in this "war for survival".

They hate and detest their military masters (many Japanese officers actually fear their own soldiers, and avoid them completely when off duty), but will [illegible] them as against a foreign [illegible]

[illegible] and in their obedience, and their intense sense of national loyalty, they are most curiously similar to the ideal held up to other peoples by other governments elsewhere.

IS there any possibility of our utilizing the feeling of these people against their own militarists, in a situation such as the present? There is.

Their troops are spread out over enormous areas, where they can be reached by radio or personal propaganda—if we have any propaganda which will impress them, and will show them a way out of a terrible impasse.

For they see their country and themselves bled white, but they see no way out except carrying through the war to a successful conclusion against the powers which they are told have "forced this war upon them."

What, then, can we say to the Japanese people, if we are to utilize their own hostility to their militarists, and their own desire for a freer and fuller life, in the cause of freedom-loving peoples of the entire world?

First of all, we clearly and specifically must renounce any intention of a military occupation of Japan, or establishment of any American military governor at Tokyo.

We must state specifically our willingness to relinquish all our special privileges and a treaty with China, on a basis of equality, to come into effect as soon as the Japanese have adopted a similar policy.

We must state specifically our desire to deal with a responsible parliamentary government in Japan, chosen in free elections based upon the suffrage act of 1925, our willingness to regard such a government as the supreme and sovereign authority, with military establishments reduced to the minimum by international agreements between civilian governments — excluding army and navy men and munitions makers.

WE. Furthermore, specifically must renounce intention to restrict Japanese trade within barriers set up by our own privileged industrialists, any intention of interfering with purely economic relations between Japan and China, any intention of maintaining peacetime control of China's currency and currency system, any intention of monopolizing Chinese air lines in opposition to Japanese air lines.

We must give the Japanese people a chance to live by peaceful industry and commerce and not force them into the insane militarist alternative. We must establish a new and genuine League of Nations, this time based upon racial equality and the end of imperialism and empire, this time based upon a determination to make it work, this time controlling directly the armaments production of the world and specifically limiting its use, this time assuring the Japanese and every other people the possibility of living in peace and security, however powerful, numerous or wealthy their next-door neighbors.

Every one of these things was aimed at and striven for by the parliamentary government of Japan, 12 short years ago.

Wading In War

CLEVELAND—At present production American factories would need nearly eight months to make the durable goods called for by unfilled orders on their books, Economist Leonard P. Ayres says, observing:

"Probably the existing huge volumes of unfilled orders for durable goods largely account for the shortages and the mal-distributions of scarce industrial materials.

"Any manufacturer who has on his books unfilled orders many times as large as those to which he has been accustomed inevitably must be chronically worried about how he is going to get the steel, the copper, the brass and the other scarce materials.

"The only way to avoid unlimited competition to obtain stocks of the materials that are essential to our effort is through a centrally-controlled system of allocations.

"If each manufacturer could be confident that he would have promptly allocated to him sufficient amounts of the materials he must have in order to make the munitions he has agreed to produce, and if he could know that their prices would not increase, he no longer would be tempted to build up reserves of large and unbalanced inventories."

Other observations by Gen. Ayres in the Cleveland Trust Co.'s monthly business bulletin:

"Our railroads are carrying more than twice as much freight as they were just before the war began.

"During the last year there has been no real increase in the volume of freight moved by trucks. Probably the movement of freight on the highways is leveling off and that with the increasing difficulty of replacing trucks and tires these freight movements will decline progressively. This will be highly regrettable.

"Ultimately we almost certainly shall have to have a national service act for the all-out control of manpower and of womanpower. American business will be well advised to prepare for such eventualities. Business should get ready training replacements.

"It is no longer true that we merely have stepped ankle-deep into this war. We are beginning to wade into it and we shall keep on going deeper and deeper for a long time."

Defeat On The Diplomatic Front

Decision Of Chile's President To Cancel U. S. Trip Hurts

(From Foreign Policy Bulletin.)

THE decision of President Juan Antonio Rios of Chile to cancel his projected visit to the United States this month as a consequence of the "stab-in-the-back" speech by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles in Boston constitutes the severest diplomatic defeat that the United States has sustained in Latin America since our entrance into the war.

For this latest development in the relations between the two countries now makes it virtually certain that Chile will not in the near future give effect to the recommendations of the Rio de Janeiro conference in January, to which its own delegates subscribed by severing diplomatic ties with the Axis.

The hope of Pan-American unity in the present world crisis seems to have vanished. Chile and Argentina, now more than ever committed to a policy of neutrality, are out of step with the other 19 American republics.

When the usually tight-lipped Mr. Welles deliberately taxed Chile and Argentina, without naming them, with permitting their territory to be used as a center of Axis propaganda, espionage and sabotage, he was intent on clearing up once and for all the widespread belief that existed in Chile that the United States is satisfied with Chile's present policies.

The immediate occasion for Mr. Wells' explosion, in fact, was the prominent featuring in the Chilean newspapers of an obscure paragraph in a U. S. department of commerce bulletin, stating that this country is continuing to draw valuable supplies, particularly copper, from Chile.

THIS fact, of course, was true, but the Chilean press was seeking to create the impression that the United States was not anxious for Chile to break relations with the Axis, lest it lead to an interference with the flow of supplies.

To what extent this misapprehension on the part of the Chileans was sincere and to what extent it was used as an excuse for deferring action is difficult to say.

When Nelson A. Rockefeller, coordinator of inter-American affairs, visited Santiago last month, he was surprised to find that President Rios was under the mistaken impression that the United States was perfectly content with Chile's attitude.

Mr. Rockefeller also discovered that the most mischievous personality in the government was Ernesto Barros Jarpa, a talented lawyer who is now Chile's foreign minister. He appears to be greatly under the influence of his cousin, the Chilean minister to Berlin, who was described by high authority in Washington as being "more Nazi than the Nazis."

Chile's defection comes as a great disappointment to the state department, which always has made a distinction between the position of Chile and that of Argentina.

It was believed that while Argentina, in refusing to fulfill its Rio de Janeiro obligations, was motivated largely by suspicion of "Yankee imperialism" and jealousy of United States influence in South America, Chile only was holding back because of worry over its 2,600-mile-long coast, so vulnerable to attacks from Axis submarines.

Then, too, it was noted that while the Argentine cabinet of President Ramon Castillo was united solidly in favor of a policy of neutrality, Chile's ministry was divided.

But probably the most telling argument against a break with the Axis is still Chile's long coastline. This fear is exploited cleverly by the Axis radio which frequently reminds Chile that it will make itself liable to attack if it severs diplomatic ties.

Southwest Wants Crack At Axis

(Louis P. Lochner, chief of bureau for The Associated Press and Wide World News Service in Berlin for many years, returned to the United States recently with other Americans released from internment camps. He now is on a lecture tour and here gives his impressions of the American southwest.)

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Wide World News Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The great southwest is " 'rarin' to get at Hitler and Hirohito", as many a citizen out here has assured me. There is no doubt about the war consciousness of this part of the United States.

Wherever you look, there are flying fields. Above your head is the continuous purr of motors.

Here in Phoenix I encountered not only American airforce trainees, but also young English lads, even Chinese. The conditions for soaring in the skies the year 'round apparently are ideal, and our allies are taking advantage of them no less than our own armed forces.

A fine looking lot they are, these young men who soon are to go against Japanese Zeros and German Junkers and Messerschmitts. Start a conversation with them and intimate that you have seen something of Europe and especially of Naziland, and they never stop asking intelligent questions.

"There is no dearer wish that we instructors have," one young man observed, "than that some of our American fliers who have had actual combat experience be brought back to America for short hauls to tell us about actual fighting. After all, I have had no combat experience, and merely can teach men to fly but I can't possibly teach them how to fight, except theoretically. It would be grand to have some of the boys back occasionally who have faced the Hitler airforce."

"IT seems to me that you men of the press can give the American public adequate graphic accounts of what these gallant fliers are doing and that a better purpose would be served by letting these returning, successful men share their experiences with us."

Among the civilians I found a general desire to help. But the people want concrete direction from headquarters. "If those politicians in Washington were only to stop playing politics and put through the measures now that we know must come inevitably, instead of waiting until after the elections, we'd be just that much ahead on our way to victory," one of my hosts said, with conviction.

He is not alone. I have heard more cussing of politicians on this trip than I ever thought could be crowded into such a venture. The people want to win the war, not to play politics.

The metal scrap collections are welcomed in these parts as something tangible to do for the nation's defense.

There are also numerous war industries in this section of America. Everybody seems to hold some job or other in a war plant. There's one danger connected with it, however; the farms are becoming deserted and the crops lie idle.

COTTON picking, for instance, has become so much of a problem that some Texas localities are providing a free transportation for volunteers willing to spend a day in the cotton fields.

I am reminded of the time, back in 1936 and 1937, when everybody in Germany was urged to volunteer for work in building the Siegfried line, Germany's western fortifications system. I discovered that even top-hatted diplomats in the Wilhelmstrasse were missing, and when I inquired into the whereabouts, I'd be told they were shoveling dirt somewhere along the western frontier.

This cotton situation—as well as the farm situation generally — seems to me like a challenge to America to be no less energetic about bringing in our harvest and tilling our soil than our enemies were at building their fortifications.

"Keep your weight well forward, fellows. Maybe we can make it on three wheels!"

You See Plenty Of Them In Our New Army, Though In The Navy Blinkers Are As Rare As They Can Be

By DAMON RUNYON

IT is said the percentage of spectacles is higher among our armed forces of today than in any army in our military history. This is because the authorities are not as squiffy about eyesight as they were in former times. If a man's vision with glasses is all right, they do not care if he is handicapped to some extent without them, which seems a reasonable theory.

Of course, if a man cannot see a dollar bill on the sidewalk without glasses, the chances are his vision is impaired so badly that he would be useless as a military prospect. But just a case of near-sightedness is no bar, because that is corrected easily with specs. In every camp nowadays you see scores of men wearing cheaters, which were something of a rarity in the last war, except among the older officers.

A great many men appear before the examiners with impaired vision that they never realized until put to the tests. This ignorance is nothing unusual. Probably 45 percent of our population needs glasses but does not know it. Most of them should be wearing them all the time, especially the ladies. If a prospective soldier is otherwise physically sound, the examiners fit glasses to him and send him along to the service—that is, of course, if the defective vision is repaired by the glasses, as in most cases it is.

THUS the optometrists have salvaged a vast amount of soldier material that in our other wars would have been discarded promptly and forgotten. In the old days a man wearing glasses was deemed virtually a cripple as far as military purposes were concerned. It was very difficult for a man with defective vision to get past the examiners in the last war and prior to that the army doctors would not take a second look at a fellow who had trouble making out the letters on the test charts. If a man came in wearing glasses he was a dead fish before he got through the door.

Now I understand they even give a soldier requiring glasses a set of spares in case of accident and even his gas mask is equipped with lens necessary to his vision. Since there is no charge for the examination or for the glasses, many a guy will come out of the army better off with respect to his eyesight than when he went in. I also am informed that in the field the army has mobile offices for the optometrists so they can follow the boys around looking after their vision.

OUR army is one of the last to recognize that many aspects of faulty vision can be corrected sufficiently by glasses to make a man of military value. However, that is probably because in our other wars we never required as many men as now and could approximate perfection in those selected. The German soldiers always have been great eyeglass wearers, while the Japs are noted for their specs.

I do not recall ever seeing an American sailor wearing blinkers. I suppose some of them do, but I never happened to run into one.

The Invader

By Truman Twill

IN THE SPRING a young man's fancy etc., and in the fall the field mice move into the house for the winter.

No one knows how. Maybe mousetrap manufacturers hire fifth columnists to leave the doors open.

Anyhow, there the mice are one night about 3 a. m., romping over the premises in hobnailed shoes.

Everything the Germans have learned about the art of invasion the field mice knew from birth, but any further similarity is purely coincidental.

The mice have no illusions about being a superrace. They ask nothing but a chance to make use of what no one else happens to be using at the time.

They do not object to being trapped and institute no reprisals. Quite the contrary, they take a philosophical attitude about the whole thing.

All they ask is a fair shake. Do not insult their intelligence by trying to sneak up on them with a broom. That is old stuff and they resent it.

And do not make the mistake of thinking that they can be held at bay with elaborate precautions, such as putting up barriers. That is the Maginot line complex that betrayed France, as everybody who reads newspapers should know.

Mice demand the use of a trap in good working order. The bait must be reasonably edible and held firmly in place for their convenience while they are chewing on it. This gives them a run for their money.

The trap must be placed strategically where they will be able to find it without hunting all over the house. A good location is more than half the battle.

Moreover, it must be of a type that does not bungle the job—a lightning fast snapper on a strong spring controlled by a hair trigger.

What happens thereafter is of no concern to the mouse. The body may be disposed of according to the desire of the trapper.

So if a soft-hearted sap wants to give it a decent burial, with a few sentimental touches, fine and dandy. It's only fitting that a dead field mouse paying the penalty of invasion should be given at least as much consideration as a dead German under the same circumstances.

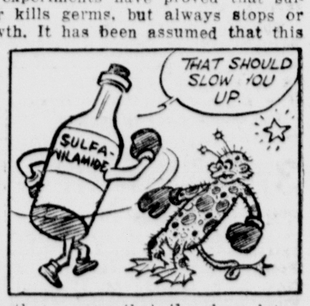
Tomato Vs. Sulfanilamide

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
Wide World Science Editor

NEW YORK—Sulfanilamide stops the growth of tomato plant roots.

This discovery reported to the National Academy of Sciences by James Bonner, California Institute of Technology, may clear up some of the mystery about how sulfanilamide helps to cure human diseases.

All test tube experiments have proved that sulfanilamide never kills germs, but always stops or slows their growth. It has been assumed that this stoppage in germ health weakened the bugs enough so that the body's ordinary defenses could kill them and so get rid of the disease.



Physicians have wanted to know why or how the sulfa drugs stop bacterial growth. A theory was that the drug interfered with or spoiled some of the food required by the germs.

The tomato root experiment was a test of this theory. It showed that the theory probably is right, and that the food which the sulfa drugs spoil is at least in part the recently discovered vitamin, para amino benzoic acid, which is called Paba.

In the experiment tomato roots were stopped with sulfanilamide. Then, if the vitamin was added in the right amount, growth resumed. The experiment also showed that this vitamin, in extremely minute amounts, is necessary for tomato root growth.

Sulfapyridine and sulfathiazole stopped the tomato root growth the same as sulfanilamide.

One of the lasting effects which may grow out of the present war is the revived dignity which goes with work with the hands.—Dean Lewis A. Froman, University of Buffalo.

Noteworthy Events In District Churches—

2 Congregations To Conduct Mortgage-Burning Services

Nazarenes, Boyce Methodists To Celebrate

Members of the First Church of the Nazarene will celebrate the 32nd anniversary of the establishment of the church in East Liverpool with homecoming services Sunday morning and a mortgage burning service at night.

The Boyce Methodist church in East End also will celebrate a debt-free congregation with a mortgage-burning at 10:20 a. m.

Ex-Members To Attend

Former members and friends of the Nazarene church are expected to attend the service while letters and telegrams from those who have been sent out to engage in the gospel ministry will be read. Rev. O. L. Benedum, Akron district superintendent and pastor of the local church for 16 years, will be the guest speaker.

The local church was organized it 1910. The $35,000 mortgage was incurred in 1925, when the present church was occupied. This last of the debt on the church was paid recently.

Special music for the homecoming service at 10:30 a. m. will be furnished by a group of singers who were members of the choir in past years. Special features have been arranged for the meeting of the Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

Unique Program Set

A unique program has been arranged for the mortgage-burning service at 7:30 p. m. A model of the church building will be erected and a history of the congregation will be read. The foundation stones of the model will be laid by nine charter members still active in the congregation, Homer Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bixby.

The church stewards will erect the ends of the building, the heads of the various departments of the church and the Sunday school, the back of the building, the front by the church trustees and the roof by the pastors who have served the congregation.

Four representatives of the congregation, suggesting the older, middle-aged, young people and children, will present the mortgage. Members of the church board and other members of the congregation will gather and hold the paper to which Rev. Benedum will apply the match.

Music will be furnished by the choir and orchestra. Special numbers will include selections by a violin trio composed of Carl Green, Hobart Bowlby and Miss Doris Wildblood. A quartet, Raymond Davis, Thurman Allen, Harry Greenwood and Carl Bailey, will sing. Mrs. Lawrence Hulse and Miss Edith Skidmore will be the piano accompanists for the congregational singing.

No Offerings Taken

One of the interesting things about the clearing of the debt on the church was that no special offerings were taken. At the request of Rev. Benedum, pastor when the present church was erected, members increased their weekly offerings by $26 so that no special appeals or collections would be necessary.

The $1,000 debt which has been cleared on the Boyce church was raised in a campaign sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of which Mrs. Clara Cox is president. The campaign was completed in 30 days.

Rev. Paul L. Carter of Steubenville, district superintendent, will be the guest speaker. Other special features will be marimba and solovox numbers by Misses Betty Neiser and Wanda McGaffic. Miss Geneva Flick will give a brief history of the church and Mrs. Cox will discuss the highlights of the financial campaign. The mortgage will be burned by members of the women's organization. Rev. William J. Hooker is the pastor.

'PREACHING MISSION' TO START ON MONDAY

A fall preaching mission will be conducted from Monday through Friday of next week in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church. The services will begin at 8:15 p. m.

The speaker will be Rev. Eugene Barnard of the Maumee Presbyterian church. Because of the war, he is back in the United States from a mission station in Japan.

Rev. Jesse Houk is pastor.

U. P. Societies Reelect Local Woman As District President

Mrs. Lyle Anderson of the Second United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, was reelected president of the Steubenville Presbyterial of United Presbyterian Women's Missionary societies at the annual convention held in the Wellsville church Friday.

Other officers chosen include: Mrs. Alfred Martin, Chester, vice president; Mrs. M. A. Curry, First, East Liverpool; Mrs. L. H. Rosenberger, Wellsville, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Gray, Knoxville, Young Women's and Junior secretary; Mrs. W. C. Hill, Salineville, association manager.

Mrs. E. D. Lucas, First, Steubenville, temperance secretary; Mrs. Albert Shaw, Chester, thankoffering; Mrs. Steve Richmond, Calcutta, literature secretary; Mrs. Lewis Fraser, New Lebanon, statistical and efficiency secretary, and Mrs. M. Todd Macdonald, Second, East Liverpool, prayer secretary.

The program for the all-day session centered around the theme of "Victory with Christ", based upon I Cor. 15:57.

At the morning service Mrs. John A. Rankin of the host society conducted the worship period. Joint conferences were held on "What Christian Women Should Do in Time of War" by Mrs. H. C. Sterrett, Richmond, and on "Temperance" by Mrs. William Macpherson, Second, Steubenville. Mrs. Lewis Fraser, New Lebanon, had charge of the prayer service.

Lunch was served at noon with the Nelle P. Smith Missionary society of the Wellsville church furnishing the dessert.

Mrs. C. H. Wood, Second, Steubenville, vice president, presided for the afternoon session, which was highlighted by addresses by two missionaries. Mrs. M. M. Brown, who spent 35 years in the mission fields of India and is now a volunteer worker at Greenville, Tenn., told of her work among the mountain people of Tennessee. Miss Marie Cash of Lebanon, Ind., whose work in India is supported by the missionary societies of the Presbytery, described a "Visit to the Punjab", especially in a hospital there. She showed a number of articles of clothing worn by the people of that country.

Special music was given by Mrs. John Springer, who sang "Prayer Perfect", and Miss Juanita Connor, whose solo was "My Task".

Reports of the Women's General Missionary society convention at Akron were given by the delegates, Mrs. S. J. Dobson of Glenmoor and Mrs. H. W. Master. In behalf of the Presbytery Mrs. G. C. McBane of First, East Liverpool, presented a gift to Mrs. Dobson in appreciation of her giving reports of the W. G. M. S. at various missionary meetings.

Dinner was served at 6 to 90 in the First Presbyterian church.

A song service with Mrs. J. F. Calhoun as organist opened the evening meeting. Mrs. Alfred Martin of Chester, led the worship service which was followed by an address on "Highways", by Dr. Willis R. Hotchkiss of Lakewood, missionary. Dr. Hotchkiss told of his early work in Egypt and emphasized the importance of standing for God. His central thought was Livingston's prayer to Moffett "O God, give me the strength to suffer and the willingness to serve."

Mrs. Helen Vernia Welch sang the "Lord's Prayer", and the consecration service was directed by Mrs. Macdonald. It was announced that the 1943 convention will be held in the First church, East Liverpool.

Societies represented by the 115 in attendance were First and Second, East Liverpool, Chester, Calcutta, Salineville, Richmond, Carrollton, Knoxville, Scroggsfield, Bergholz and Wellsville, and First and Second, Steubenville.

METHODISTS TO HOLD 'LOYALTY CAMPAIGN'

Local Church To Aid Drive Of North East Group

The First Methodist church here will unite in a loyalty campaign which will be conducted by all churches of the North East Ohio conference for a week beginning Monday.

Rev. Clark W. Cooper, pastor, will preach on "Religious Dugouts" at the morning service Sunday. Another in the series of sidewalk sermons on "Memory" will be given at the night service .

The loyalty campaign will stress increased interest in the church school, youth fellowship and church attendance. A membership autumn party will be given Tuesday at 8 p. m. for members and friends of the church. Mrs. Charles Boyce is general chairman of the committee arranging this affair.

O. E. Hall is the new general superintendent of the church school, which is cooperating in the loyalty movement.

Announcement has been made that William Martin, president of the Youth Fellowship, will be inducted into the army next week. The service Sunday will be the last before he leaves.

WELLSVILLE MISSION GIVES CHILD TRAINING

An industrial school for boys and girls of Faith Mission, Wellsville, conducted similar to the daily vacation Bible school, is being held weekly on Thursday in the mission, announced Rev. A. W. Bonacci, pastor.

Illustrated songs opens the classes at 7 p. m. The girls are learning sewing under the guidance of Miss Frances Bonacci. Charles Lewis is teaching art and drawing to the boys and Rev. Bonacci is teaching them to make chains.

Misses Diana McIntire and Rosie Amato are aiding with the work of instructing the small children.

Lutherans Return President

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 17—Dr. Frederick H. Knubel of New York was named president of the United Lutheran Church in America for the 13th successive term. Dr. E. Clarence Miller, a Philadelphia layman, was renamed treasurer.

Quilting Planned

SALINEVILLE, Oct. 17—The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon in the church for quilting. Women of the church will meet Thursday afternoon for sewing.

3rd Church Institute Planned

THE third annual institute for members of the United Presbyterian church in the Steubenville Presbytery will be held Oct. 29, Nov. 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30 in the First United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool.

Bewteen 75 and 100 men and women leaders from a majority of the 20 churches in the Presbytery are expected to enroll for the institute. Rev. M. Todd Macdonald, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool, is dean, and Everett Croft registrar.

The institute sessions will begin at 7:10 p. m. on each of the six nights with a worship period. A quiet hour service from 9:20 to 9:35 p. m., will conclude the sessions. The final meeting on Nov. 30 will take the form of a banquet at which Rev. H. Ray Shear, pastor of the Crafton Heights Pa., United Presbyterian church will be the speaker.

The students will be divided into two groups, one for young people and one for adults. During the first hour the choice of two studies will be offered for young people. The studies are "Bible Archeology", for which Rev. John M. Bald of Carrollton will be the teacher, and "Personal Evangelism" with Rev. Virgil A. Barnes of Bergholz the teacher.

For the second hour there will be the choice of two studies for the young people. One, "The Sabbath Evening Service", will be taught by Rev. Clyde H. Canfield, pastor of the First church of East Liverpool, the other, "Dramatics in the Church", will be taught by Rev. J. Hubert Henderson, pastor of the Glenmoor church.

For the adult members, "Mark's Gospel" will be taught during the first hour and "Worship" for the second. Rev. Alfred Martin of Chester will teach the class during the first hour and Rev. John F. Kindsvatter, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church, will teach the second hour class.

We Are Engaged In The Greatest War of History

If We Are To Win God Must Help Us

Can we consistently ask and expect victory, in the providence of God, and at the same time cast our ballots against the Day the Lord has ordained? To be consistent we must be worthy of victory.

What do YOU Think?

Are those who have forced the Sunday Amusement issue on the voters of our city interested in making East Liverpool a better place in which to live, or are they interested in purely selfish gains?

What Do YOU Think?

Would it not be better if those pressing this matter would relate themselves with the church of their choice and help save East Liverpool morally and spiritually?

What Do YOU Think?

Suppose the voting public polls a big majority against a wide-open city on November 3rd? Would that suit YOU?

Cash Expenditures For War Are Estimated At 74 Billions

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—President Roosevelt told congress Friday that federal cash expenditures for war in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, now are estimated at $74,000,000,000 and non-war outlays at $4,194,000,000.

In addition, interest on the public debt in this 12-month period was estimated at $1,850,000,000 to bring federal outlays for the current fiscal period to $80,044,000,000.

Non-war expenditures of the government, Mr. Roosevelt reported, have been cut more than a third from their 1939 peak.

The chief executive submitted a 96-page analysis of trends of non-war governmental spending which showed that from a peak of $6,516,000,000 in 1939 they have dropped nearly $1,000,000,000 under the figure for the last fiscal period. They compare with a low of $2,454,000,000 in 1933.

Covering Mr. Roosevelt's entire tenure in the White House, the report shows war expenditures have jumped upward from a low of $578,000,000 in 1934, passing the billion dollar mark for the first time in 1938. The total for the 1941 fiscal year was $6,301,000,000 and for the last fiscal year, subject to minor final adjustments, $26,011,000,000.

The report was prepared by the budget director and Mr. Roosevelt said in an accompanying message to congress that it shows the "important reductions which have been made without sacrificing humanitarian considerations." He sent it to congress for its information and made no request for any action.

The total figures exclude expenditures by government corporations and credit agencies.

The report noted that people are writing the President or various governmental officials exphasizing that, since they were asked to cut civilian expenditures to aid the war effort, the government should "pull in its belt" more tightly.

It recalled, too, that two congressional committees have recommended in recent months a cut in non-war spending and that the subject has figured frequently in congressional debate.

HEATING PLANT ORDINANCE DUE

Council To Meet Monday On Several Matters

Plans were pushed today to draft an ordinance authorizing the reception of bids for the purchase of a new heating system for the Central fire station.

If the ordinance committee of council presents City Solicitor Carroll P. Lynch with the necessary information on costs and specifications in time, it is expected that the ordinance will be ready for council's consideration at its regular meeting Monday night.

The ordinance would provide for Safety-Service Director William Watkin to receive bids.

Mr. Watkin repeatedly has urged that action be taken on providing the heating system.

He and Fire Chief Charles Bryan have appeared before council several times, explaining the need for the new system.

The old furnace is almost beyond repair, according to Chief Bryan.

It is expected that council also will take action on the problem of re-routing busses over the Jennings ave.

Council has indicated that the badly-rutted street may not be repaired before spring, and members will consider some means of acting on the bus drivers' request that the busses be routed to eliminate the "Colony" road.

Action also is expected on the two ordinances vetoed by Mayor O. Earl Greenawalt, which abolish the jobs of foreman at the city incinerator and chief operator at the waterworks.

Council's trip to the waterworks filtration plant and pumping station Tuesday night is expected to be discussed in connection with the vetoed ordinance.

The report of T. R. Lathrop, state health department engineer who accompanied council on its inspection tour and who earlier submitted a letter of criticism to the mayor after an inspection of the plant in September will be discussed.

Councilmen did not indicate what action, will be taken on the proposed ordinance to transfer $20,000 in poor relief funds to help pay off the city's outstanding bills, which amount to more than $60,000, according to figures released by City Auditor E. Allan McKeever.

The legislation has been tabled for more than four weeks.

MAMA SPANK! Jeannette MacDonald administers a verbal spanking to Robert Young in this scene from the Ceramic's Sunday opener, "Cairo", also starring Ethel Waters. The story is about how a small-town newspaperman and an American movie star catch a ring of Nazi spies in the Mediterranean. Reginald Owen, Grant Mitchell and Lionel Atwill also are in the cast.

HAPPY FAMILY. And why not, with lovely Sheila Ryan as sister, think Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in this scene from "A-Haunting We Will Go", which opens at the American Sunday. Also on the bill is "Highways By Night", with Richard Carlson and Jane Randolph.

TELL IT TO THE MARINES! They're getting ready for more Japs in this scene from the Columbia's thriller, "Wake Island", now playing, and starring Robert Preston, Macdonald Carey and Brian Donlevy. The rousing story of the marines' stand on the besieged island also features Barbara Britton as a flying hero's wife.

TRENDS CLOUDED BY PRICE SHIFTS

Analysts Are Cheered With Billion Dollar GM Loan

By VICTOR EUBANK
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 — Small fractional price changes either way clouded trends in today's early stock market dealings.

Improved at a quiet opening were Texas Co., Montgomery Ward, N. Y. Central, Pullman, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Railway and U. S. Gypsum.

Market analysts found some satisfaction in the billion dollar General Motors bank loan obtained for the purpose of speeding the corporation's armament work. In addition, notice was taken of estimates that deliveries of war products from automotive plants during September amounted to $512,000,000, equal to an annual rate of $6,140,000,000.

Holders of carrier securities studied preliminary reports of 86 class 1 carriers for September indicating these had total operating revenues in the month of $554,787,382, an increase of 40 percent over the like 1941 period.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, Oct. 17—The Commercial Bulletin said today:

"The wool movement on Summer st. is a mere dribble compared with other recent weeks, although the trade is hopeful that the recent statement of the secretary of war that the army will be increased to 7,500,000 men by the end of 1943 means the placement of large cloth orders in the near future by the army quartermaster.

"Foreign primary markets continue quiet with the exception of Argentine, where a moderate business persists for this country, although import permits are not readily secured as yet.

"The mohair movement has slowed down again and operations in Texas are small with bids mostly at 40 cents for adult and 50 cents for kid hair."

The paper published these Ohio quotations:

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gale Williams, Mrs. Ollie Campbell and Mrs. Isaac Jones.

England had a bachelor's tax from 1695 to 1706.

SCHOOL LEADERS TO END MEETING

Bricker Advises Educators To Look Toward Future

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17 — Ohio high school officials considered specialized phases of education at the concluding session of their annual meeting today.

The wartime curriculum must be "adapted to meet new needs and to provide a glimpse of the future that will confront the student," Gov. John W. Bricker told school administrators and principals attending the conference sponsored by the state department of education.

"This is a war of brains," the governor declared. "The nation that has the most inventive and creative power will win. The peace will make the greatest demand for leadership in the history of the United States and the girls and boys in the schools today will determine how we will assume that leadership and what kind of a world it will be."

He assured the educators they can "look forward to two more years of sound financing without any new taxes or other adjustments, but beyond that no reasonable person would predict."

The schools are in pretty good shape financially," he asserted. "I can assure you of the continued operation of the school foundation program for the next two years."

POLICE GIVE PRESENT TO RETIRING OFFICER

J. Norman McFarland, who retired Thursday after having served for more than 29 years as a member of the police force, was presented with a suit case and a traveling kit by fellow officers this afternoon.

The presentation took place in the police quarters at the City hall. All members of the force attended the presentation, which was made by Police Chief Hugh McDermott and Service-Safety Director William Watkin. Mr. McFarland responded with an expression of thanks.

Mr. McFarland's resignation was prompted by ill health. His successor has not been named.

KDKA GROUP TO SPUR BOND SALE AT LISBON

Special To The Review.

LISBON, Oct. 17 — Radio artists from Pittsburgh will be here tonight for a War Bond drive in the Public Square under the joint auspices of the Kiwanis club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Talent from the KDKA artists' service will assist in the program scheduled for 8. Army trucks, jeeps and other equipment from Pittsburgh will be exhibited during the demonstration the purpose of which will be to induce the public to invest in War Bonds.

A half-hour program in the interests of the rally was broadcast from radio station KDKA from 11:15 to 11:45 p. m. Friday. Richard Firestone, president of the Jaycees, spoke in the radio broadcast.

500 Japanese Killed

CHUNGKING, Oct. 17 — Five hundred Japanese were killed or injured when a troop train struck a Chinese mine near Shanhsiatu, northern Kaingi province.

SURPRISE ALERT HELD FOR LISBON WARDENS

Special To The Review.

LISBON, Oct. 17 — Civilian defense units of the village were mobilized Friday night but the surprise alert found many of the air raid wardens in Sebring with the high school football team.

The yellow signal was given at 8:05 p. m. and it was not until one hour and forty-five minutes later that the "all-clear" signal was given.

Seventeen bombing incidents were phoned to control headquarters during the mobilization. While the response by the air raid wardens was not considered good, 73 percent of the auxiliary patrolmen turned out for the mobilization call.

$3,000 FUND SHARED BY AREA PRESBYTERY

A small gift of money to the Steubenville Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church many years ago has accrued interest until the sum reached $3,000 and the trustees of the Presbytery took action recently, S. J. Dobson, financial agent, announced today, and divided the money into three equal portions.

Mr. Dobson has been instructed to invest $1,000 in War Bonds, $1,000 to be given to Muskingum college at New Concord, and the remainder of the fund to be presented to the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary in Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK MAN FINED FOR CARRYING PISTOL

Aldo Bernado, 21, of Bronx, N. Y., was fined $50 and costs by Municipal Judge Frank Grosshans today after pleading guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Bernado was arrested in a Diamond restaurant Friday night after a complaint has been received that he was molesting a girl patron. At the police station he was found to be carrying a loaded gun.

The fine was paid by the driver of a truck who employed Bernado as a helper.

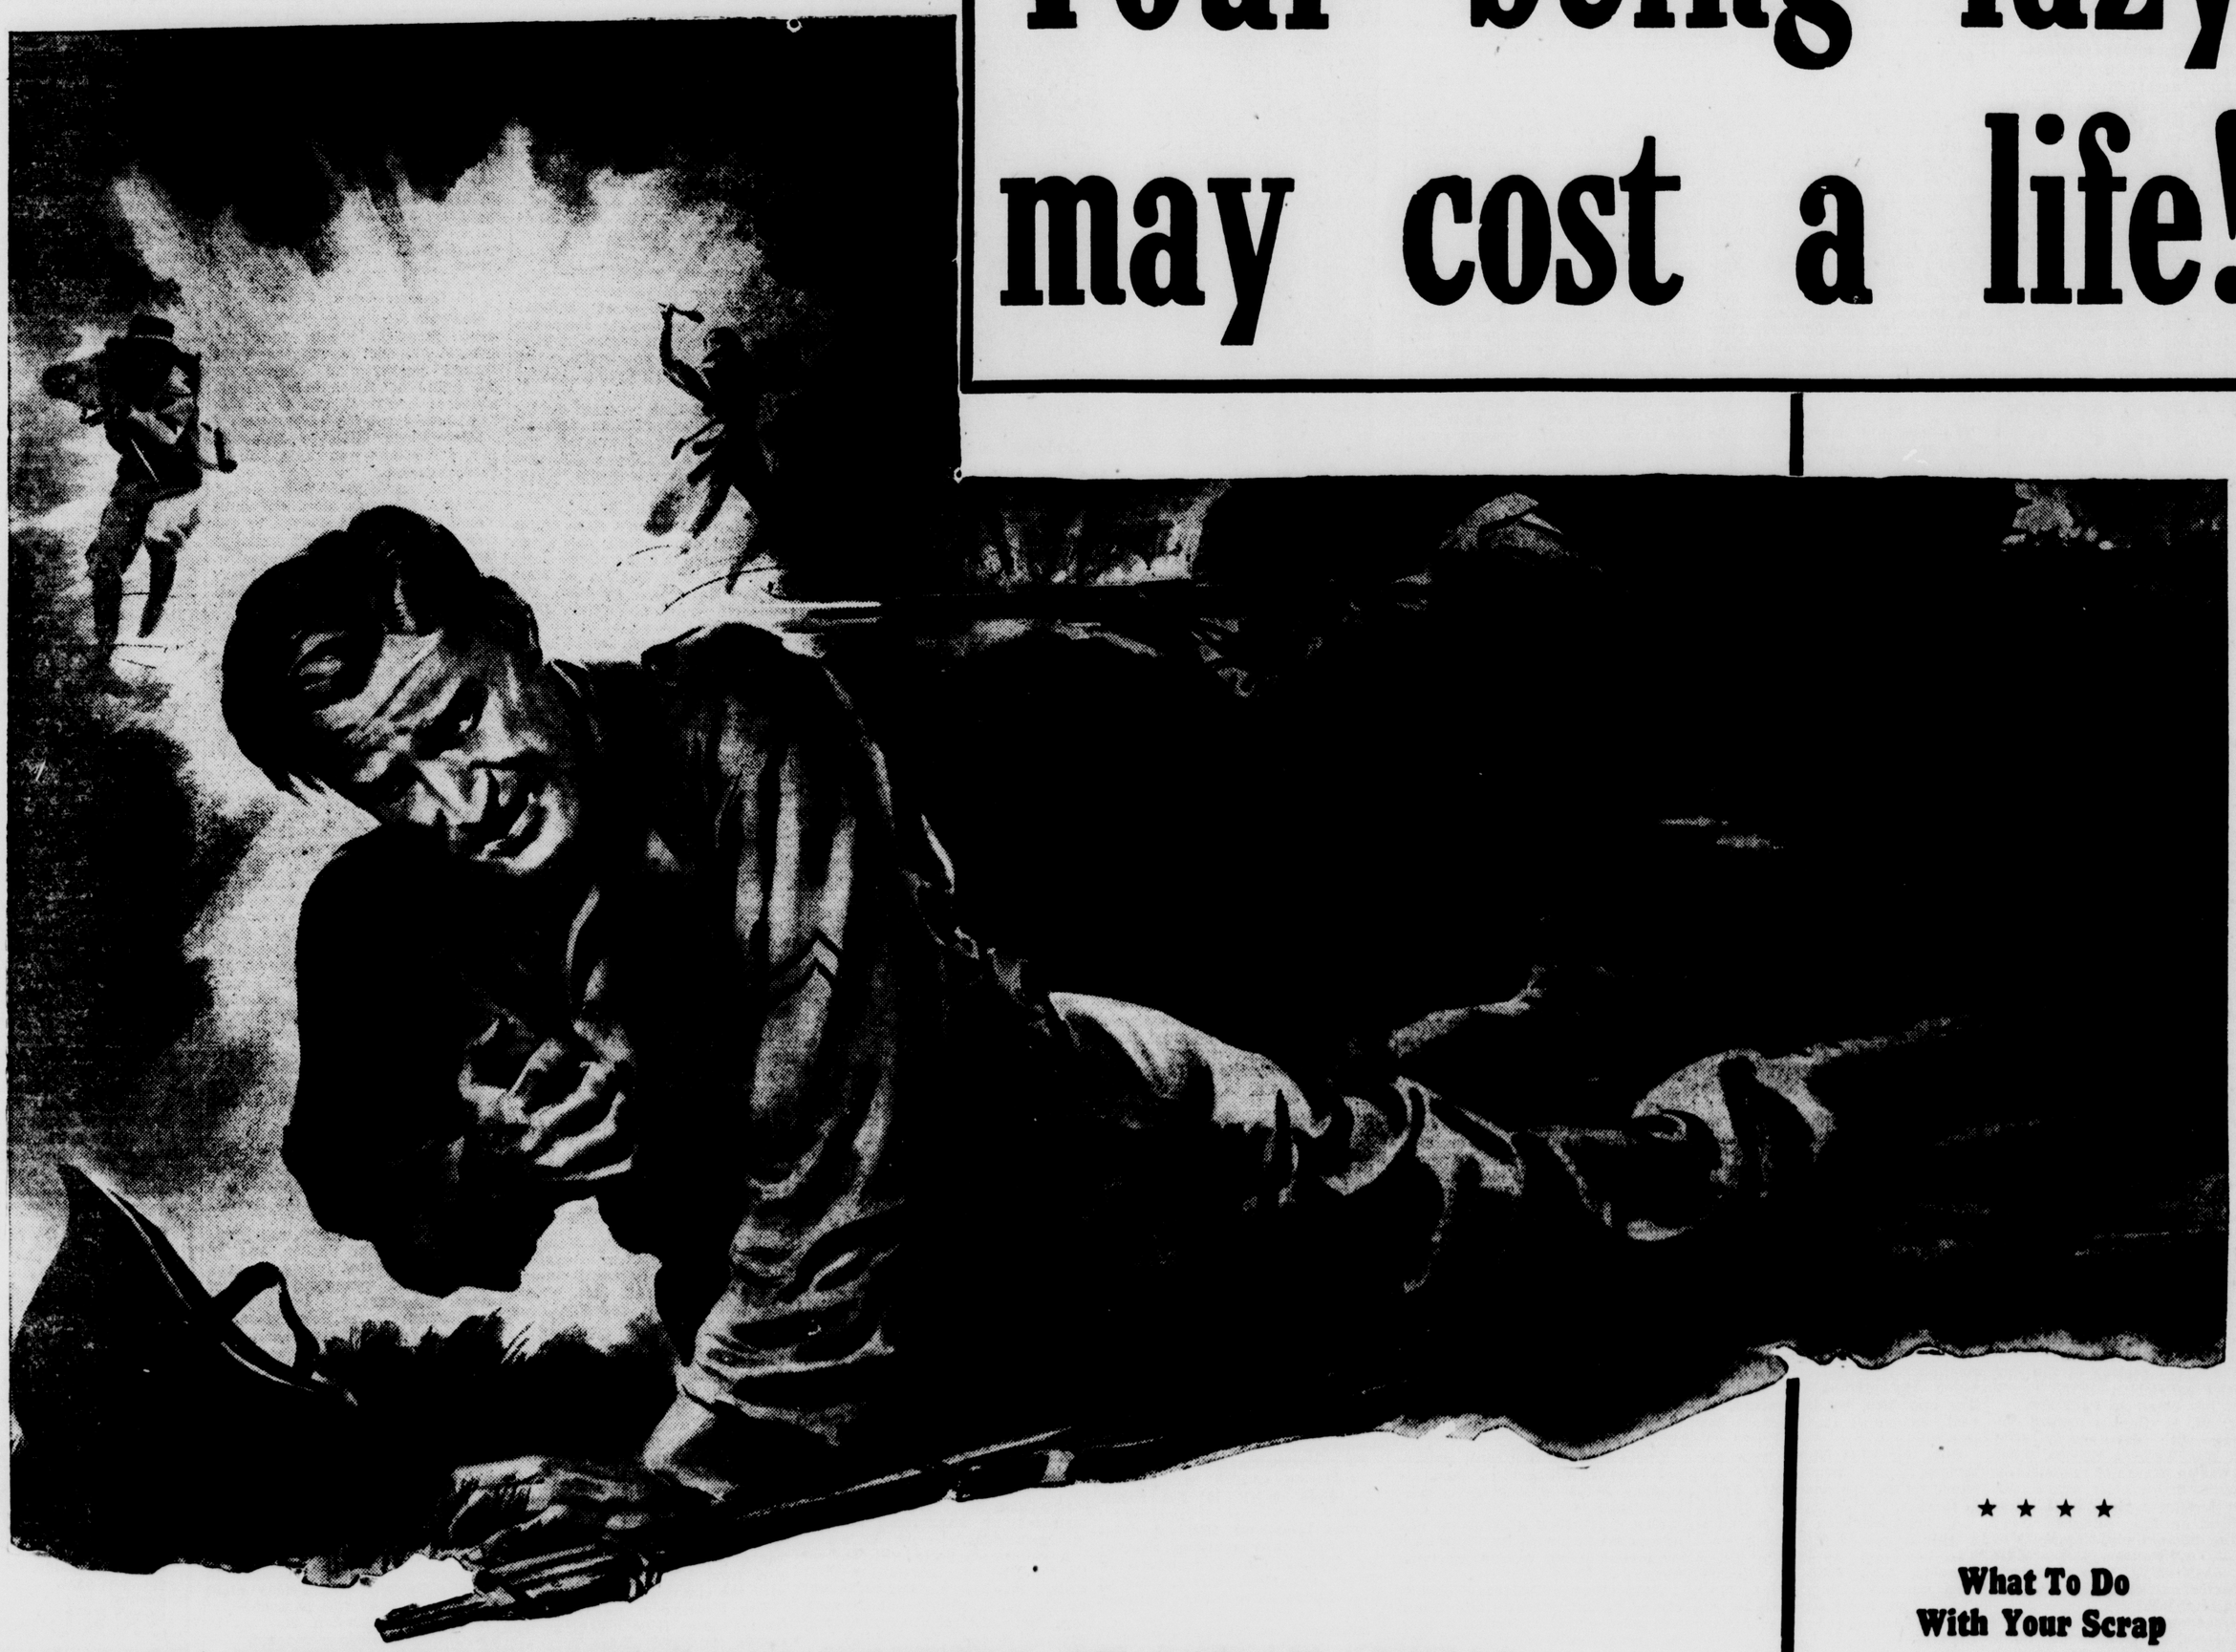
Your being lazy may cost a life!



HAVE YOU TURNED IN YOUR 100 POUNDS OF SCRAP METAL . . . OR ARE YOU SHIRKING YOUR DUTY?

Surveys and actual collections have proved—every family can produce an average of 100 lbs. of unused metal!

That's the figure to try for—and to beat. Make that 100 lbs. the absolute minimum and work up! Go over your house again and again—question the need for every metal object that you see.

And if you live on a farm, figures show you can turn in from 500 lbs. to a ton of scrap, depending on the size of your farm. Round up the old car parts, tools and other things you may have lying around. Go through your barn—search your whole place. Any metal you don't absolutely need has important work to do. Start it on its way to the steel mills and the battle fronts.

If you're a manufacturer, merchant, landlord, contractor, or other businessman, you've got a real job to do. Use a fine-tooth comb on your place of business—there's where the biggest tonnage comes from. This "industrial" scrap must provide at least 75% of the tonnage in this community. It must boost collections to a total of at least 100 lbs. for every man, woman and child!

So don't stop when you've turned in all the useless stuff. Sell or scrap the things that are being kept simply because they might be used. Follow this rule—if it hasn't been used for six months, and you're certain it won't be used for the next six—sell it . . . or scrap it!

Remember—your Country needs scrap metal desperately. Every pound that you turn in may save some brave boy's life. And every pound you don't —helps Hitler!

What To Do With Your Scrap

If you want to sell it —
Call a scrap dealer. The price he'll pay is regulated by the government.

If you want to donate it—
—Take it to your town's "public scrap yard" or salvage depot.

Or—
Call the Review's scrap editor or 77 (in East Liverpool). In other communities call your scrap salvage chairman:

In Wellsville—Call Wellsville 516 or 371-M.

In Chester—Call 620 or 2642.

In Newell—Call 3195.

In Salineville—Call Salineville 2811.

In other Columbiana county areas—Call Floyd Lower at the courthouse.

All money from the sale of donated scrap will go to civilian defense funds in your community.

Potters Win Fifth Straight, Crush Timken, 19-0

Sporting Angle

By BOB SHAFFER

COACH Regis Scharf watched his East End grade school champions win probably for the last time for the duration last night when they belted North Side, 25-0. He leaves for army induction next Wednesday.

The youthful mentor took charge of the East Enders in 1938, the first year of grade school football in this city, and has guided his proteges to the title every year.

Before hostilities got under way last night, the East End eleven went into a pre-game huddle and came out with the best play of the game: "We're going to win this one for our coach." And in a thoroughly convincing manner proceeded to hand the North Siders a pasting.

In firing his departing salvo, Coach Scharf said: "I'll be back with the champs as soon as we beat the Japs." 'Nuff said, Regis.

East Liverpool High's 78-piece presented its most convincing exhibition of the season between halves of the game Friday night.

Amid a blackout, the musicians formed a lighted arrow pointing directly to the colors on the east side of the field, and then made a left turn to point the arrow on a lighted platform where a group of nurses, representing every branch of the American Red Cross, were huddled around the Red Cross flag.

For a finale, the band squared off to the concrete stands on the west side of the gridiron and as it sounded off with "Over There", placards with "Keep 'Em Flying", "Scrap For Axis" and "Buy Bonds" were displayed.

Chitter-chatter . . . (Between halves of the Potter-Timken game) "No. 30 for East Liverpool (Joe Dawson happens to wear that numeral) is the only player on the field," Coach Earl Loucks, Timken mentor said, and his two assistants reiterated his remark. . . . The Midland Sportsman's club will sponsor a trap shoot Sunday at 1 p. m. at Treadwell park, Midland. Members have been asked to bring their own guns and ammunition.

RALLY IN SECOND HALF GIVES LOCALS TRIUMPH OVER CANTON GRIDDERS

Score Once In Third And Twice In Fourth Period After Visitors Dominate Play In Opening Quarters; Dawson Tallies Twice, Talbott Once

Hopelessly outclassed in the first half, an inspired Potter eleven roared back in the final periods to crush a stubborn Canton Timken team, 19-0, Friday night at Patterson field to keep its record unblemished.

Approximately 4,500 fans watched Coach A. Gerald Capezzuti's gridders ride to their fifth straight victory on a muddy gridiron.

Out-charged but not out-fought, the Potters were held with their backs to the wall during the first 30 minutes, and had it not been for some fine punting by Quarterback Paul Hester and a stalwart line the Trojans probably would have scored.

Timken Threatens Twice

Twice in the opening period the Timken machine steamrollered inside the Liverpool 30, but Hester stopped the first threat when he snagged an enemy pass, and on the second threatening drive, the Potter forward wall withstood the attack and took possession on 22-yard stripe. The only other Trojan threat was thwarted in the second quarter when Joe Dawson, Potter fullback who again sparkled with all-around brilliant play, broke through and tossed Fisher, a reserve back, for an 11-yard loss on the Trojan 48.

The Potters gained possession on their own 35, and just before the half ended punched out two first downs, the only ones they made in the opening periods.

Timken completely dominated the play during the first half. The Trojans gained 94 yards from rushing and registered six of their eight first downs, while the best the Liverpools could do was to move the yard sticks twice and measure off 20 yards from scrimmage.

It was a complete change of scenery in the last two chapters, however, as the "Galloping Grays" started galloping. They took command from the kick-off and before the final whistle sounded had amassed 173 additional yards from rushing and registered 10 first downs, while the visitors were throttled to a pair of firsts and 20 yards on running plays, identical figures put in the books in the opening stanzas by the local team.

Potters Get Break

The Potters took advantage of their first break to score in the third period. A bad punt which caromed off the foot of Ed Hinton, sub back, went out of bounds on the Timken 31 and the Blue and White paraded for the touchdown. It was a well-directed punt by Hester that went out on the Trojan 10 that put the visitors deep in their own territory.

Guy Sillince and Johnny Bell, the Potter halfbacks, made it a first down on the 17 and after Sillince had picked up four more, Dawson rammed guard to the Trojan 7 for another first. On the second play of the series East Liverpool was set back to the 11, but "Chuck" Winters, who finally "found" himself as a ball carrier, started to skirt right end on the next play and after being trapped laterallled to Dawson who sped across the last stripe from the 10. Co-Captain Jess Barnhart's attempted placement was wide.

After Tackle Ray Yanni kicked off and the Trojans couldn't dent the Ceramist line, the locals gained possession on their own 35 and started goalward again, but a first down fell short on the Timken two-yard line. Winters and Dawson each had 10-yard sprints on the drive, but a Winters-to-Bell pass ate up 26 yards to plant the oval on the hostile 12. Two passes and a line play failed, but on the fourth down Sillince flipped a lateral to Dawson who was downed just short of the necessary yardage on the two.

Sanchez Punts Short

Angelo Sanchez, Timken's triple threat back who kicked up his heels aplenty in the first half, punted short to Bell on the 30 and the rugged halfback ran back to the 26 before he was pushed out of bounds. This set the stage for the second Liverpool tally midway in the final quarter.

Winters and Dawson cracked the Timken line for a first down on the 16, but after Winters had picked up six more to plant the ball on the nine, the Potters were penalized five yards for too many times out. However, on the same play that brought the first touchdown, a Winters-to-Dawson lateral scored again, this time from the 14. Both touchdown plays were perfectly executed and it marked the third six pointer scored by the local gridders on that play this season. Again Barnhart's kick from placement was wide.

Bill Talbott, who came in for the tired Dawson at fullback, and Chuck Winters, whose hard running was instrumental in setting the stage for the first two markers, lugged the ball 55 yards for the final touchdown.

Timken's attack failed to click after Yanni kicked off and Sanchez punted to Winters on the East Liverpool 5, and the hard-driving halfback tore back to the Timken 48. On the first play he skirted right end, and with the aid of some beautiful interference, dashed to the Trojan 39. It was the longest single gain of the game on a play from scrimmage.

Talbott drove through center for five, and after Winters made three at right tackle, the little fullback personally ploughed the rest of the way, 19 yards, in four plays for the touchdown. This time Barnhart's placement was good with Harold Diddle holding the ball.

The game ended five plays later with Timken in possession of the ball and the Potters' third team on the field. Coach Capezzuti again swept the bench clear of substitutes.

Potter Line Formidable

The Potter line again played the opposing forward wall to a standstill, and for the fifth consecutive time did not permit a score to be made against it, and after the Trojan forwards and backs fruitlessly butted their heads against the granite-like line in the first half, it was no job at all for the Diddle, Yanni, Gochenour, Sam Winters, Cooper, Barnhart and Smith combination to open gaping holes in the enemy line to let Dawson, Winters and Talbott sift through for large gains.

Little Guy Sillince had difficulty in keeping his feet on the slippery turf, but the sure-footed Dawson and Winters ripped the Trojan line to shreds in the last half. Dawson played the best game of his career. When he wasn't pounding the line with his bull-like lunges, he was tossing enemy ball carriers for huge losses from his defensive end position.

After mediocre performances in the first four games, Chuck Winters and Bill Talbott "came to life" and between them literally ran the Timken team into the ground in the fourth quarter. Bell and Hester again played in their commendable manner.

Sanchez, Jim Low, Len Evangelista and Frank Morelli, all hard-running backs, showed up well for the Trojans. Sanchez was a threat every time he handled the ball. It was his running that kept the Potters in hot water during the first quarter.

Sebring Beats Lisbon By 14-0

Winners Tied For Top Post In Tri-County League

Special To The Review.

SEBRING, Oct. 17—Sebring High gridders defeated the Lisbon Blue Devils here last night, 14-0, for their third Tri-County league triumph. The victory put the locals in a tie for the leadership with Louisville, defending champs, and Boardman who clash today.

Sebring struck through the air in the first quarter to tally its first marker. A 25-yard pass, Marsh to Yomans, produced the touchdown and Fullback Campbell bucked over center for the extra point.

A march of 45 yards netted the other marker in the second stanza with Campbell plunging over from the three-yard line. He also carried the 14th point over on a try at Center.

The visitors threatened on two occasions, driving inside the Sebring 20, but didn't have the punch to reach pay dirt.

Some excellent punting by Art Evans, left halfback, kept the home team away from the Lisbon goal several times, while End Don Dillard's defensive work aided the Blue Devils in thwarting other Sebring scoring chances.

Sport Chatter

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—With all those football teams stranded in Richmond yesterday it looked as if the south's favorite gridiron song would be "Carry me out of old Virginny." . . . It just goes to show, however, some of the perils of trying to move teams around the country these days. . . . In normal times they could have chartered a few planes after the rails were washed out and arrived ahead of time. . . . Instead, they almost had to stay where they were and play each other. . . . Maybe that's the way they'll schedule games before long. . . . The graduate managers will get on the phone and say, "let's you and us play a game. We'll both start Thursday morning and play when and where we meet."

When the Bears played the Cardinals last week, they announced that footballs kicked into the stands and returned by the fans would be donated to army camps. . . . Most of the bleacherites willingly tossed them back, but one hung onto the pigskin despite a hearty booing. . . . After the game three sailors came up to the announcer Rocky Wolfe and said: "Here's that ball. . . . The three of us convinced that guy he should return it."

Wellsville Tigers Rout Salem Eleven, 27-0

Pass Interceptions Produce 2 Scores In 4th Period

Special To The Review.

SALEM, Oct. 17—Wellsville's rejuvenated Tigers clawed out their third straight victory of the season here last night when they humbled the Salem Quakers, 27-0, on a mud-smeared field before 4,000 fans.

After being held to a touchdown and an extra point in the first three quarters, the Tigers struck with lightning-like quickness in the final stanza to score three more six pointers and turn the game into a runaway.

Williams Scores Twice

The first two markers were carried over by Fullback Mike Williams on short bucks through the line, but with only five minutes to play Center George Lawton intercepted a Salem aerial on the midfield stripe and weaved his way 50 yards to pay dirt to start the route.

The Tigers kicked off to Salem and on the first play, Ciotta, reserve back, shot a pass that was snagged by Quarterback Bill Brown on the Quaker 40 and he raced back all the way for the tally without an enemy hand being laid on him. Halfback Vic McIntyre converted three of the extra points from placement.

"Chuck" Campbell, shifty left halfback, set up the first Wellsville touchdown in the second chapter when he pulled in a Quaker punt at midfield and chased back to the 16-yard line before being downed. The speedy back knifed through tackle for four, and after an offside penalty set the Tigers back to the 17, Williams whipped a pass to End Gregg Kindle on the seven. The fullback then drove over center to the two for a first down. In three plays the Tiger backs only moved a yard and a half, but the Salem line cracked on the fourth down and Williams dove over tackle for the marker.

Campbell Sprints 24 Yards

Following a scoreless third quarter, the Tigers gained possession on the Salem 49 after an exchange of punts. Campbell again showed his heels to the Quaker tacklers as he twisted to the 25. "Soup" Liberatore, starting his first game at right halfback after being held from a starting role because of a charley horse, ran through tackle to the 16 and on the next play Williams smeared the center of the line for 12 yards and a first down on the four. He bucked over center in two plays for the score.

With only five minutes remaining in the game, Coach Ray Overturf of Salem sent in his shock troops to stem the Wellsville onslaught, but two ill-fated passes produced two more Tiger touchdowns, Lawton's 50-yard scamper and Brown's 40.

The first downs were six-all.

East End Grade Team Smothers North Side In Preliminary, 25-0

Coach Regis Scharf's East End grade school eleven smothered the North Side graders in a preliminary to the Potter-Timken game Friday night, 25-0.

With Bruce Craven, Don Jackson and "Scrappy" Dray running the North Siders into the ground, East End posted touchdowns in the first, third and fourth quarters, a pair of six pointers being chalked up in the third.

Left Halfback Jackson raced 42 yards around left end in the first quarter for the initial marker. Craven, playing at fullback, broke through the North Side line from the 10-yard line in the third period to score the first of his two touchdown jaunts.

A few minutes later, Quarterback Dray got loose at right end and dashed 60 yards down the sidelines for the third East End tally, and just before the final whistle sounded Craven again eluded North Side tacklers to score on a 55-yard scamper after intercepting an enemy pass. He plunged for the extra point.

The North Side attack was bottled up by the hard-charging East End line.

VINCENTIVE TO FACE INITIAL MAJOR TEST

By The Associated Press.

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 17—A colt hailed as a possible successor to the great Challedon faced its first major test today in the running of the $5,000-added Spalding Lowe Jenkins handicap at Laurel park.

The colt, Vincentive, is the son of Challenger II-Phenomenon, and is a half brother to Challedon and Pictor, both W. L. Brann horses.

Early wagering indicating Vincentive would go to the post the favorite with Coldstream stable's attendant looked for to furnish his chief opposition. A. C. Ernst's Alquest was also expected to be a contender.

Flood Waters Fail To Stop Road Elevens

Iowa Seahawk-Notre Dame Fray Tops Nation's Topflight Card

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Despite wartime travel restrictions and the high water of the Virginia floods there will be enough football for every one today.

Grid squads representing Duke, Duquesne, Maryland, Auburn, Florida and the North Carolina preflight school were delayed for a time by flood conditions yesterday while enroute to today's encounters.

All, however, were able to continue their journeys.

Dukes Meet Tar Heels

Duquesne was on its way to North Carolina to fill a spot on the Tar Heels' homecoming card, vacated Tuesday when Rice found it was unable to make the long trip to Chapel Hill under the war-time travel handicaps.

And it was the war which also helped provide another of the day's better games, the meeting between the unbeaten Iowa pre-flight cadets and the awakening Irish of Notre Dame.

That struggle shares top billing with the Tennessee-Alabama encounter which may go a long way in determining the ultimate winner of the Southeastern conference title.

Duke was halted while on its way to Buffalo where the unbeaten Red Raiders of Colgate will furnish the opposition.

Auburn At Georgetown

Auburn was trying to get to Washington and an engagement with Georgetown and Maryland wanted to reach Lexington, Va., and avenge three defeats by Virginia Military.

In the midlands, Illinois hopes to break a 15-year-old jinx and defeat Iowa for its fourth straight victory; Ohio State's club, voted the nation's best this week, faces a trouble-making Purdue aggregation; Northwestern invades Michigan and Wisconsin turns loose its "H" boys—Harder, Hoskins and Hirsch—against Great Lakes.

Minnesota and Nebraska, two of the area's dominant teams in years past but each with two defeats this season, tangle at Lincoln.

MASSILLON'S TIGERS TRIM STUBBERS, 33-13

By The Associated Press.

MASSILLON, Oct. 17 — Massillon High school's Tigers rang up their 48th straight football victory last night with a 33-to-13 defeat of Steubenville.

Hard-driving Johnny Stojack spear-headed the Stubbers to a 7-to-6 lead at halftime, scoring on a 23-yard run off right tackle. Then it was the Tigers' turn. They scored thrice in the third quarter while Steubenville was held threatless.

Capt. Chuck Holt, Keve Bray, Dallas Power and Graber were the Tigers' scorers.

BUCKS FAVORED OVER PURDUE IN BIG TEN BATTLE

Conference Leadership At Stake In Columbus Tilt; Boilermakers Feared

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17—The top spot in the Western conference gridiron race was at stake today as Purdue and Ohio State clashed in Buckeye stadium before a a crowd expected to exceed 40,000.

The Boilermakers, fresh from their 7-to-6 upset victory over Northwestern, were in fine fettle, but were underdogs to the thrice-victorious Bucks who this week were voted the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll.

Bucks' Left End Out

Ohio State, except for the ever-troublesome left end position, was in top-notch shape. Junior Bill Sedor, tall Shadyside youth who only three weeks ago was the No. 4 man on that flank, received the starting call as injuries cleared Dante Lavelli, Don Steinberg and John White out of his way.

Coach Elmer Burnham of Purdue, despite the startling victory over the Wildcats last Saturday, appeared none too confident his Boilermakers could defeat the light but speedy Bucks.

The Boilermakers arrived by train last night, and Burnham and his boys walked the eight blocks from the Union station to a downtown hotel.

"Just wanted to get the train kinks out of their legs," the Purdue coach explained.

Asked about his team's chances, the Purdue mentor replied:

"If we play as well as we did against Northwestern, I'll be satisfied. My boys are all right, not too big and not too little, but they aren't in a class with Ohio State."

Visitors Tough, Says Brown

Coach Paul Brown of the Bucks, in summing up his team's chances, said: "Any team that can beat Northwestern is tough, and don't let anyone tell you anything else. We're looking for the toughest kind of game, for there are no breathers in the Big Ten this year."

Vincent "Rocky" Snyder, one of Brown's top-flight performers at Massillon high when the Buck chief was piling up his impressive scholastic record, will do his best to upset his old teacher today. "Rocky" has drawn the starting quarterback assignment for Purdue, as well as the acting captaincy of the Boilermakers. He's rated the best blocker on the Purdue squad, and Brown attests he's an able field general.

Gene Fekete, Ohio fullback and leading Big Ten scorer, will try to add to his 39-point total, although bothered by a slight foot infection. Game time is 2:30 p. m. (East Liverpool time).

Probable lineups:

Pos.	Purdue	Ohio State
LE	Harris	Sedor
LT	O'Bryan	Csuri

A Promise for Tomorrow

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

CHAPTER NINE
No Dawn Today

ALL through the long hours of that dreadful night, Julie had little time to be glad of Pete's narrow escape. And plenty of opportunity to mourn the injury, sometimes fatal, to fine skilled workmen. If the fire had been an accident, she thought fiercely it was criminal negligence. If it hadn't—she dared not think of that!

The wind which had caught at the flames like some malevolent demon, whisked them through the inflammable scaffolding, hurling fire 50 yards at a time, had died down as suddenly as it came up. Only the deluge that followed helped check the fire's toll.

It was still drizzling at 6 the next morning when Julie, spent with the fierce battle she'd waged through the night, stumbled out to her car.

A taxi from the airport whirred into the drive, spraying gravel recklessly. A tall man lunged out, flung a coin toward the driver, hurled himself toward the steps. It was Pete!

"Pete!" her voice spoke the thought.

The sound stopped him. He turned, waved, ran toward her.

"Julie. You're just the person I want to see. How are they?"

"Two men died during the night. A third probably won't last the morning. The rest will pull through I think." she answered quietly.

Pete pulled off his hat, mopped the perspiration beading his forehead.

"Great Scott! I can't see how that happened. We've taken every precaution. Warned the boys. Made the working conditions as near fool-proof as possible."

"Maybe it wasn't an accident," Julie suggested and for the second time recalled Dawn's strange uneasiness, her insistent warning.

Pete glanced at her sharply. "What makes you think so?"

"No reason. Just a hunch. I thought you were in Riverport."

"I was. Dad called the airport. So I hopped off one plane and onto another. But they had the fire pretty well under control when I got here." He pulled open her car door. "Got time to drop me down at the yard?"

"Certainly." Julie slipped under the wheel, started the motor.

"What a rotten break that this should have happened while I was gone." Pete gnawed the stem of his unlit pipe.

"Maybe somebody planned it that way."

He laughed at her. "You've been reading too many spy scare stories, Julie. We've a pretty good set-up for uncovering the suspicious boys down there. Besides, no one but Dad knew I was going."

Tough Assignment

Julie glanced at him sharply. Had he forgotten about Dawn? Then she censored that thought. It sounded like one of Dawn's feline remarks.

But as if her thought had spoken Dawn's name aloud, Pete said, "Do me a favor, Sissy?"

The old familiar nick-name sounded especially dear right then. Julie nodded, her throat tightening around a lump, her eyes intent on the debris scattered across the street approaching the yard.

"Stop in at Kelland's and see how Dawn is, will you? She's a nervous little thing. This fire has probably scared her to death."

Julie nodded again, still not trusting her voice. A guard stopped them, recognized Pete, waved them on. Julie drove carefully now, grateful that it absorbed her attention. Huge charred skeleton of a warehouse ahead, coils of hose along the roadway, the dark smell of wet ashes.

"Lord, what a mess!" Pete muttered. "It's worse than I thought."

Julie brought the car to a stop. "Looks as if this were as far as I can go."

Pete nodded, stepped out. "Thanks a lot."

Julie mustered straggling courage. "Stop by the office on your way home. I'll—be interested to know what you find out."

He nodded. "Okay. Tell Dawn not to worry."

She backed carefully, made slow progress against the tide of workmen pouring into the yard now. Dawn probably was worrying Julie thought, trying to be fair. In love with Pete and already concerned for his safety, she'd be frantic until she knew that at least for the present, he was safe enough.

She drove quickly along the wet street, turned in at the wide driveway before the Kelland house. Jarvis, hiding disapproval behind his ubiquitous courtesy, admitted her.

"You are early, Miss Julie," he reproved her firmly. "I am sure Miss Dawn is still sleeping."

"I doubt it. Anyway, will you tell her I'd like to see her for a moment. Or shall I just run up and—"

"I'll go, Miss Julie. If you will wait in the rose parlor, please." The old manservant bowed stiffly, turned away.

Jarvis would observe the formalities even in an earthquake, Julie thought smiling as she sank wearily into a deep, down-cushioned love seat.

Disappeared!

He was gone for exactly 16 minutes by the little ormulu clock ticking relentlessly on the mantel. Dawn must be sleeping soundly, she thought wryly. And not nearly as worried as Pete had imagined! Dawn's real concern would be involved only when it actually touched herself—or something that belonged to her. With Pete safely in Riverport, why should she worry about a little fire that cost the lives of a few workmen!

Julie roused herself sharply; turned to meet Jarvis.

"I am afraid it will be impossible for you to see Miss Dawn," he said stiffly, his usual calm obviously ruffled.

"Impossible! What do you mean?"

"If you will leave your message, perhaps—"

"Don't be absurd. I want to see Dawn. At once. It's important I'll guarantee she'll not reprimand you for waking her."

"I tell you—it is impossible. Miss Dawn is—" he hesitated, glanced over his shoulder.

"What is it, Jarvis?"—exasperated.

He took a step closer, lowered his voice. "Miss Dawn isn't in her room. She is gone. She was there last night. One of the maids served her dinner in bed. I can't think—" The old man shook his head.

"Gone!" Julie repeated slowly. "I've no doubt she has gone for a canter," Jarvis said then, recovering himself. "She often does. Without leaving word, you know."

"Oh, I see," she said, but she didn't, actually. No one would choose a drippy morning like this to canter anywhere, anytime. Least of all Dawn who hated rain like a cat. But, to relieve Jarvis' embarrassment in having betrayed his mistress, she said carelessly, "Okey. Tell her I dropped in and have her call me at the office when she returns."

"Thank you, Miss Julie."

"How is Mr. Kelland this morning?"

"Nicely, thank you. He's quite himself again, you know."

"Good. Thanks, Jarvis."

Julie stopped at her own home only long enough to shower, change into clean clothes, swallow coffee and orange juice. If Dawn went leisurely to bed last night, the thought kept elbowing her, what had roused her unless it were the fire? She must have heard it. No one could have slept through that banshee wailing of sirens. Had she turned public-spirited suddenly and gone to one of the first aid stations to help? Possible but not probable, Julie decided. Besides, she'd have told Jarvis she was going.

OUT OF MY MIND

This Funny Language

By Katharine Brush

IN the first place, who decided that the word "isthmus" should have that "th" in the middle of it, and what was his big idea? . . . Or did he lisp? . . . I know perfectly well that "guerrilla" and "gorilla" are two different words, but when I hear or read the phrase "guerrilla warfare" I get a mental picture of two vast baboons pummelling each other. . . . I am all for abbreviations, but "Filipino" for a native of the Philippines never has seemed to me to be enough of a one to make it worth while, and I don't see why we don't say "Philippino" and be done with it. . . . I always put an "n" in "indomitable", and I cannot be cured. . . .

I went to school, like anybody, but not then and never since have I been certain of my grammar when it comes to "that" or "which" —and as for when to say "as if" and when to say "as though", they've got me stymied. Never mind about my grammar anyway, I'm sorry I brought it up.

I have pronunciation troubles, too, especially when it comes to "pariah"—not that I run around saying "pariah" all the time, but you know what I mean. And I once knew an otherwise perfectly literate and even scholarly gentleman who couldn't say "pistachio", and said "piscanchio" instead, and this confused me so that now I can't say either one, for fear it's the wrong one. I just have to take chocolate or vanilla.

When you see the word "waif" in lower-case letters, it looks like what it is, but when you put it in capitals I insist that it looks like the name of a radio station. . . . It strikes me that "Hosanna" would make a good first name for a woman, and that Dickens missed a bet when he didn't use "scrimmage" as a surname for a character. It would have been right up his alley. . . . The first thing I ever remember hearing about the English in all my life was that the schoolboys called a wastepaper-basket a "wagger pagger bagger"—and this I still remember every time I see an Englishman, and almost every time I see a w-p-b. . . . The word "ewe" always throws me, and so does the word "throes", for that matter. . . .

DOESN'T anyone else have any trouble? Am I all alone in this? Here I'm supposed to make a living with a typewriter, and look at me—I always say "stupefication" for "stupefaction", and I'm always reversing "ei's" and "ie's" (despite careful experiment on scratch paper), and I invariably put an "n" in "restaurateur", where I'm firmly convinced it belongs, and I yield to nobody when it comes to the number of different ways—and all of them wrong—in which I can write "manoeuvre".

That noise you hear when I'm at work is the constant splitting of infinitives; and when I look up a word in the dictionary (or a name in the phone book, for that matter) I have to recite the whole alphabet before I even know where to begin to look. Sometimes I wonder whether I ever really got past kindergarten—and if so, how? At my present age of 198 years come Michaelmas, I unquestionably would flunk a first grade spelling-bee, and go home boo-hooing. (I don't know where hyphens belong, by the way, and where they don't. And the same with apostrophes.)

Nothing can ever convince me that "murmur" hasn't got an "e" in it, and nothing can make me remember that it's "saxOphone", not "saxAphone". I can spell "apparatus"—I think—but my hearers cringe when I say it verbally, and I always know that I've guessed wrong and they belong to The Other School. When anybody says "misled", I have no difficulty whatever, but when I see it printed I always think it rhymes with "whistled". And on the infrequent occasions when I hear anybody mention Samoa, I always think they're saying "Some more" albeit in a southern sort of way. . . .

And all in all, it seems possible that the title of this column is a misnomer—because maybe it isn't a funny language. Maybe it's me. Or rather, I. Or, well, anyway—your correspondent.

TREASURY, WLB RULE PAYCHECK

Byrnes Appoints Agencies; Wickard Gets Powers

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—The treasury and the War Labor Board today undertook jointly the job of controlling the size of America's paychecks.

James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization, disclosed at the first meeting of the new economic stabilization board yesterday that he has turned the task over to the two agencies.

He followed that up by telling Secretary Wickard the agriculture department will have jurisdiction over farm wages and requested proposals for the machinery that must be set up.

Salary Regulations Drafted

The War Labor Board, already designated to control industrial wages, now will handle in addition all salaries under $3,000 and those up to $5,000 which are covered by wage agreements.

The treasury is drafting regulations for the control of all other salaries over $3,000 except those supervised by WLB. They will be limited at the top to $25,000 a year after making allowances for permissible deductions and payment of taxes.

WLB and the treasury are expected to suggest stabilization measures which would allow raises reflecting promotions for merit or for more responsible duties provided they would not tend toward disturbing price ceilings or toward sizeable increases in costs of commodities.

Could Revise Farm Wages

Agricultural officials who refused to be quoted by name said they believe the authority granted Wickard empowers him to revise farm wages to help keep workers on farms and attract others into lines of agricultural production essential for war purposes.

The regulations, they theorized, probably will bring farm wages more in line with industrial pay and may authorize payments of subsidies to farm operators to enable them to give higher wages.

Sentiment against further farm subsidies has been expressed recently in the senate.

POLICE HUNT SLAYER OF OHIO SPINSTER, 63

Woman Is Found Beaten To Death In Farm Cowshed

By The Associated Press.

PROCTORVILLE, O., Oct. 17—Volunteers aided police today in a search for the brutal slayer of Miss Pearlie Zoe Bramer, 63, who was found beaten to death in a cowshed on her Lawrence county farm where she lived alone for the last 17 years. Coroner W. W. Lynd said she had been criminally assaulted.

A man's red handkerchief found near the body, which lay on a pile of fodder in front of the stalls, gave authorities their only clue to the identity of the assailant, Sheriff Fred Sanders asserted.

Lynd said Miss Brammer's bed had not been slept in Thursday night and her cows had not been milked. He placed the time of the attack as late Thursday

Sheriff Sanders declared the spinster's house had been ransacked and there was evidence of a struggle in the barn. An old-style sunbonnet lay on the ground near the body.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Clark, arriving at the farm to share-crop a potato plot, discovered the tragedy yesterday.

LISBON MAN CHOSEN FOR STATE SOIL POST

Special To The Review.

LISBON, Oct. 17—Earl R. Shade of Lisbon has been named to head the district field work group by T. C. Kennard of Columbus, state soil conservationist, who appointed 11 field groups in all to supply technical aid to farmer-organized soil conservation districts.

Others named to head the groups in the various areas were:

Lewis B. Morehead, Mt. Gilead; Herbert T. Marshall, Coshocton; S. C. Hartman, Cambridge; Dan W. Buskirk, Springfield; Ralph R. Baker, Jackson; P. L. Fogle, Lancaster; J. E. Bradfute, Findlay, and H. R. Heathman, Hamilton. Hillsboro and Burton selections will be made later.

Would Exempt Dairymen

CANTON, Oct. 17—Rep. William R. Thom advocated Friday night that the department of agriculture seek draft exemption for dairy workers to help relieve a farm labor shortage.

DINNER ON MONDAY WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

A dinner-meeting at 6 p. m. Monday in the Y. M. C. A. will inaugurate the opening of the annual "Y" membership drive. Raymond Buzzard, chairman of the enrollment week campaign, will give final instructions to approximately 70 workers. The goal for new members has been set at 450, said Earl M. Carlton, secretary.

Two changes in team captains have been made due to the inability of Rev. Francis G. Stewart and A. B. Steinmetz to serve. Clarence Custer and Rev. M. Todd MacDonald have been named to fill the vacancies.

The final results of the drive will be tabulated at a meeting Thursday night in the "Y".

Miners To Resume Work

BANESVILLE, Oct. 17 — Work will be resumed Monday by striking miners at the Jones Coal Co., mines at Stovertown, pending a conference with the management to settle differences, it was announced by Archie Maxwell, president of local 7147 of the United Mine Workers.

Honor Roll Is Planned For Free Methodists Now Serving Country

An honor roll containing the names of 31 members who are serving with the armed forces will be erected soon by the Oakland Free Methodist church.

The board will be placed in front of the church. Members of the church whose names will appear on the board are:

Clyde V. McGrew, Richard J. Galloway, Richard W. Allison, Victor Allison, Harold D. Schneider, Robert A. Green, George Wilson, Paul M. Kirchner, Claude W. Clark, Earl Chapman, Paul Dillon, Joseph Hood, Jerome Brown, Nellis Webber, John F. Brown, Wayne J. Eckert, Paul Thomas, C. Kenneth Rutter, Austin Bishop, Charles E. Allmon, Arthur Seevers, Russell Dray, James Crumbly, Lawrence Haught, Paul Haught, Charles Haught, Howard Buzzard, Leland Chaffee, John Fry, Abe Samberson and Paul N. Brown.

Excavation will start soon for additional quarters which will be added to the church basement. The extra space will provide five or six rooms for primary children. The work will not be completed until next spring. A subscription campaign for this improvement will be conducted at the Sunday morning service.

Rev. Floyd Chastain and wife of Henning, Ill., will begin a two-week revival campaign in the East End church Sunday, Nov. 1. Services will be held every night through Nov. 15.

Rev. C. S. Richardson, the pastor, will preach tomorrow morning on "A Sound Mind" and at night on "Those Who Hunger and Thrist After Righteousness."

ANNUAL BROTHERHOOD SERVICE WILL BE HELD

The annual Brotherhood service will be featured Sunday at 7:15 p. m. in St. John's Lutheran church.

Men of the congregation will have complete charge of this service. A chorus of men will furnish the music. A. E. Stoddard will be the speaker in the absence of Rev. John F. Kindsvatter, the pastor, who is attending the biennial meeting of the United Lutheran church of America in Louisville, Ky.

Sister Marie Reuff, superintendent of the Lutheran Epileptic home at Rochester, Pa., will be the substitute speaker at the 10:45 a. m. service.

SPEAKER TO DISCUSS SHEEPFOLD TO PULPIT

Arthur Patch of Pittsburgh, who was born in Greece, will be the speaker at a special service Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the First Church of the Nazarene in Wellsville.

Mr. Patch spent his boyhood days in the ancient city of Sparta where he was a shepherdboy. After coming to the United States he worked as a bartender.

The subject of his sermon in Wellsville will be "From Sheepfold to the Pulpit" in which he will give his life's story.

SEMINARY PROFESSOR TO ADDRESS SERVICES

Rev. Gaius Jackson Slosser, Ph.D., professor in church history and history of doctrine in the Western Theological seminary in Pittsburgh, will be the guest speaker Sunday at 11 a. m. in the Newell Presbyterian church. His sermon subject will be "The Christian's Trials and Rewards".

Dr. Slosser is a fellow of The Royal Historical society and received his doctor's degree from the University of London. He is the author of the scholarly and authoritative book "Christian Unity".

REVIVALIST. Rev. G. W. Stevens, pastor at Hamilton, Ont., and a radio preacher, will conduct a two weeks' revival campaign beginning next Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the First Free Methodist church. Rev. C. W. Newland, local pastor conducted revival services in Rev. Stevens' church a few years ago before he came to East Liverpool. Services will be held every night through Nov. 1.

Church Notes

Circle 1 of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the parish hall. The Altar guild will meet Tuesday at the same hour. Choir rehearsal for boys will be held Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. and for the entire choir at 7:30. The women's auxiliary will hold its weekly meeting Thursday at 10:30 a. m., which will be followed by work for the Red Cross. All women of the church are invited.

"Christian Home Sunday" will be celebrated tomorrow morning in the Emmanuel Presbyterian church. All couples who have been married by Rev. Francis G. Stewart, the pastor, since he assumed charge of the local congregation in October, 1938, have been invited to attend. The baby of one of these couples will be baptized at the service.

Rev. T. Milton Gladden, pastor of the First Methodist church, will give a report of the recent annual meeting of the Pittsburgh conference at the 11 a. m. service Sunday. He will discuss "Consecration" at 7:30 p. m.

Sermon subjects of Rev. D. Park Chapman at the First Church of Christ for the Sunday services are: 10:30 a. m., "Look and Live", and 7:30 p. m., "The Humility and Dignity of Man".

An evangelistic campaign will be launched Sunday night at 7:30 in the Boyce Methodist church with Mrs. Claude Dailey, local evangelist, in charge. Rev. W. J. Hooker, the pastor, will direct the services.

Rev. Archie Mackey will preach on "When Life Begins" Sunday at 10:45 a. m. in the First Christian church of Wellsville. The theme for the 7:30 p. m. sermon will be "What Have You Found?"

The Westminister guild of the Newell Presbyterian church will resume its services for the winter when it meets Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church.

The Young People's society of the Newell Presbyterian church will use the theme, "Christians Without Reservation" for discussion at the service Sunday at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Bessie Woodward of Akron will conduct the services for the First Spiritualist church Sunday and Monday nights in the Moose hall at East Fourth and Washington sts.

Evangelist T. W. Butterfield will preach on "Brotherly Love" Sunday at 10:30 a. m. in the Bradshaw ave. Church of Christ. The sermon subject for the night service will be "Water and the Spirit".

Volunteer day will be celebrated Sunday in the First Church of the Nazarene in Wellsville. Rev. Clark W. Allison, the pastor, will preach on "Volunteers" at the evening service. A girls' chorus will sing. Betty Parsons will be the leader of the young people's service.

FIRST PRESBYTERIANS WILL FEATURE MUSIC

Special music will be featured at both the morning and night services Sunday in the First Presbyterian church.

At the 11 a. m. service a mixed choir will sing the "Cherubim Song", (Tkach), in the offertory. Rowland T. Kaufman, tenor soloist, will give "Hold Thou My Hand, (Curran). The organ prelude by Mrs. Edith Calhoun will be "Andante" from the "Fourth Organ Symphony", (Widor), and the postlude, "Marcia", (Ascher). Rev. Arthur E. French Jr., acting pastor, will preach on "When Assets Become Liabilities".

Organ selections for the Sunday night service will consist of "Prayer", (Humperdinck), as the prelude; "Allegro Maestos", (Verdi), as the postlude and "No Shadows Yonder", from "The Holy City", (Gaul), as the offertory. The sermon subject will be "Doing the Impossible".

DRAFT OBJECTORS HIT BY LUTHERAN CHURCH

By The Associated Press.

MENDOTA, Ill., Oct. 17 — The American Lutheran church convention decided today the church "cannot uphold the conscientious objector who is subject to draft and who refuses to go or to render any service to the nation in its time of need."

A resolution adopted without opposition at the church's seventh biennial meeting said:

"If a person refuses to register and to serve in any way in our country's defense programs, the church, while not presuming to judge his motives or denying him the right to hold his convictions, cannot indorse his views nor defend him in his effort to secure complete exemption from the duties covered by the selective service act."

SOWARDS TO RESUME SERVICES TOMORROW

Rev. E. E. Sowards, pastor of the First Baptist church, returned today from Norwood where he attended the Ohio Baptist convention, and will conduct the Sunday services in his church.

Rev. Sowards will preach at the morning service on "Divine Healing—Why Your Prayer Was Not Answered" and at the evening service he will give the second in his prophecy series on "Signs of the Times in the World".

Chemical Tank Explodes

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17 — Four buildings were damaged and six workers injured slightly when a 70,000-gallon chemical tank, only partly filled, exploded at the Procter & Gamble Co. plant in Ivorydale. The loss was estimated at $7,000.

The danger of an old will

IF you made your will many years ago: Does it contain special bequests that, paid from your present estate, would leave too little for your family? Does it dispose of property that you no longer own? Does it fail to provide for someone who has become dependent on you? Does it leave part of your estate to someone whose inheritance would be safer if left in trust?

Does it name an executor and trustee who is still capable of managing your estate efficiently and conserving it for your family?

Consider your will today. You may find that it needs revision. And discuss with us the advantages of naming this experienced, responsible institution as executor and trustee.

The Gallup Poll Finds:

Government Conduct Of War Fails To Satisfy British Public

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17—While Americans are not satisfied entirely with all parts of our war efforts, in England public dissatisfaction with the British government's conduct of the war is far more widespread.

Except for one or two brief periods, in the last 16 months the majority of British voters never have expressed themselves satisfied with the way the Churchill government is waging war.

The highest point in the public's approval came in early June of this year, when R.A.F. raids over Germany were being intensified.

The low point was in March, just after the fall of Singapore. Today the number approving the government's conduct of the war constitutes only about two-fifths of the total population.

That fact helps to explain the continued public clamor in Britain for a second front—a clamor which Prime Minister Churchill and other British leaders have attempted to quiet.

The majority of Britons for some time have felt that the Allies should try to invade Europe this year.

In August, for example, the British Institute of Public Opinion found 60 percent expressing that belief in a public opinion survey.

However, in spite of the demand for a second front and in spite of the dissatisfaction over the war effort, there is no widespread public demand in England for a new government. Churchill's popularity continues to be overwhelming.

The latest British institute sounding shows 82 percent of British voters approving him as prime minister. The percentage has remained unchanged since August.

The British institute's measurement of attitudes toward the general conduct of the war have been made on the following question:

"Are you satisfied or dissatisfied with the government's conduct of the war?"

The trend for the last few months is shown below:

	Satisfied	Dissatisfied	Undecided
June, 1942	57%	26%	17%
July	41	42	17
August	45	38	17
Today	41	37	22

Prime Minister Churchill's popularity showed a decline immediately after the fall of Tobruk, but since that dark period, the surveys have found him gaining. The recent trend follows:

"In general do you approve or disapprove of Churchill as prime minister?"

	Approve	Disapprove	Undec.
June	86%	9%	5%
July (after Tobruk)	78	15	7
August	82	11	7
Today	82	11	7

SALINEVILLE ELEVEN TOPS AUGUSTA, 21-0

Special To The Review.

SALINEVILLE, Oct. 17—Local high school gridders rang the victory bell for the first time this season Friday when they defeated Augusta, 21-0, on the Salineville field.

Fullback Ray Wright and Halfback Jimmy Roberts did all the scoring, but it was Bobby Webb who set up the touchdowns with his dazzling open-field running. He had four runs of 25 yards.

Late in the first period, Wright skirted right end from the 12-yard line for the touchdown, and he plunged over for the first of three extra points.

After Webb had placed the ball deep in Augusta territory in the third period, Roberts scored the second Salineville six pointer with a drive through center. The extra point was made by Wright on a plunge.

In the final quarter, Roberts ripped through tackle for 12 yards and the third home team score. Again Wright hit the line for the extra point.

First downs were 9-to-7 for Salineville.

EAST PALESTINE HIGH ELECTS CLASS HEADS

George Guthrie Named To Lead Seniors Of '43

Special To The Review.

EAST PALESTINE, Oct. 17—Class organization was completed at East Palestine High school this week when officers for the 1942-43 school year were elected.

Seniors voted George Guthrie, president last year, to lead them again this year, and named Bob Fullerton vice president; Don Lipp, secretary, and Marion Zeh, treasurer.

The juniors reelected James Walker president for the third consecutive year. Bill Franklin was renamed vice president. Patty Morganstern was chosen secretary, and Marilyn Atkinson, treasurer.

Martha Harvey, president of the class of 1945 last year, again was the choice of her classmates. Mary Lou Sutherin was named vice president of the sophomores; Rosamond Gregory, secretary, and Ben Jackson, treasurer.

Ray Kannal was victor in the seven-way contest for head of the freshmen class. Mary Mae Whitehouse edged as many candidates for the vice presidency. Francis Batyski was elected secretary and Paul Grim, treasurer.
